WASHINGTON, March 22—Notes identical with that received in Paris from the American government today for presentation to allied representatives there were being submitted today by American diplomatic officials to the governments of Great Britain, Belgium, France Italy and Japan

This statement was made today at the state department and disclosed for the first time that Japan and Belgium in addition to the three other powers were to be informed as to the American position with respect to the demanded payment of American Rhineland occupation costs Unofficially it had been learned several days ago that the notes were to be sent to Great Britain, France and Italy

State department officials said the text of the American note probably would be made public here tonight

By Associated Press

PARIS March 22—The conditions under which the reparations committee will grant Germany a partial moratorium were announced today They include perfect autonomy for the reichsbank and new legislation to prevent evasion of German capital The legislation is to be ready for application upon a fixed date

A number of reforms in German financial methods are stipulated These must go into effect at fixed dates beginning May 31 New resources for reparations money must be found and the funds collected under the control of the allied committee on guarantees which will pass upon their effectiveness and probable yield If they are found insufficient the reparations commission will consider a number of measures including a domestic or foreign loan and eventually a levy upon capital in Germany

It is stipulated that if reparation payments in kind to the value of 1 450 000,000 gold marks yearly are not entirely delivered the balance may be required in cash

FLOOD OF PREPARED SPEECHES IN SENATE IN TREATY DEBATE

WASHINGTON March 22—A flood of prepared speeches for and against the four power Pacific treaty was loosed in senate today as the period of unlimited debate came to an end for final ratification vote on Friday

Senator LaFollette republican Wisconsin, assailed the arrangement as a scheme of Great Britain and Japan to secure cooperation and protection of the United States in their further schemes of exploitation and imperialism ' He declared it was viewed by both British and Japanese statesmen as merely an extension of the Anglo-Japanese alliance which it abrogates and that in actual practice it would result in binding the United States to support the policies of London and Tokio against outside powers

I do not know ' said Senator LaFollette 'whether the British government could contend if this proposed treaty went into effect that its dominions should each have a separate vote under the treaty as they have under the league of nations At all events we do know that the Anglo-Japanese policy of aggression and imperialism which made the British empire and the Japanese empire close allies in the past will cause them to stand as a unit in opposition to the policies of any power in the Pacific ocean which dares to insist that the rights of the weaker people there shall be recognized and protected Whether they outvote us six to one, or two to one, is not material "

LIMIT OF ONE HOUR ON SPEECHES ON THE TREATY

WASHINGTON March 22—A one hour limit on speeches went into effect today when the senate proceeded with debate on the four-power Pacific treaty under the unanimous consent agreement which calls for a vote on ratification next Friday Addresses had been prepared for today by Senators LaFollette republican Wisconsin and Walsh democrat, Massachusetts and it was also probable that the debate would include speeches by Senators Shortridge republican California Smith, democrat South Carolina and McCormick, republican, Illinois

On the pending amendments and reservations to the treaty it was said that at least one might be voted on today, disposition of these having been in order yesterday under the terms of the unanimous consent agreement although none was pressed to a roll call

The stir created by suggestions of a secret British American co-operative 'understanding' in relation to the treaty appeared today to have definitely blown over as a result of the succession of administration denials including one from the white house yesterday The purpose of some of the irreconcilables to make the incident the basis for a fight to send the treaty back to committee apparently had been definitely abandoned

CHARGE OPERATORS STATEMENT IS ONLY 'A SMOKE SCREEN'

WASHINGTON, March 22—Bituminous coal operators who see danger to themselves from anti-trust law enforcement if they confer with the miners union nationally to fix wages were declared to be setting up simply a smoke screen in a statement issued today by the United Mine Workers The statement referred to an address by George H Cushing managing direction of the American Wholesale Coal association here yesterday in which the alleged legal dangers were discussed

'They know it is a frivolous excuse, but it is the only one they had left the mine workers statement said

"Only recently President Harding announced that Attorney General Daugherty handed him an official opinion that the operators and miners would not violate any law of the United States by meeting in joint conference for the purpose of negotiating a new wage agreement * * * Both President Harding and Secretary of Labor Davis have been unsparing in their denunciation of the operators for their assault on business morals by breaking their valid contract with the miners

ATTACH IMPORTANCE TO THE CORONADO COAL CASE

WASHINGTON March 22—Due to the impending coal strike more than usual interest was attached to the reargument in the supreme court of the famous Coronado coal case

The case presents the issue of whether labor unions can be prosecuted under the Sherman anti trust acts on charges of restraint of interstate commerce incidental to strikes The proceedings are before the court of appeal by the United Mine Workers of America and other labor organizations and grew out of the coal strike in Arkansas in 1914 when much property was destroyed and lawlessness reigned until the arrival of federal troops which restored order

Lower courts in ruling adversely to the unions denied their contention that the Sherman law applied only to corporations and that it was the intention of congress to exempt them from such liabilities as well as charges of conspiracy growing out of concerted action aimed to improve their working conditions and increase their wages

HOUSE LEADERS PREPARE FOR THE FINAL SKIRMISH

WASHINGTON March 22—Republican house leaders prepared today for the final skirmish in the long fight over soldiers bonus legislation They looked however for only comparatively little opposition tomorrow when the measure was to come up in the house under a suspension of the rules

Four hours debate were to precede the final roll call set for before adjournment Half of this time was to be assigned to opponents for the firing of the final shots at the compromise bill Some leaders said they did not expect the discussion to change a single vote and they predicted that far more than the necessary two-thirds majority would be obtained for the bill

Once the roll call begins party lines were expected to disappear In fact those who had undertaken to sound sentiment in that direction thought there would be more opposition votes from the republicans than from the democratic side Some of those who planned to support the bill said privately they were not satisfied with all of its provisions but would vote for it convinced that it was the best legislation that could be brought before the house at this time

Democratic leaders planned to center fire on the resolution to make Thursday a special suspension day This resolution was to be presented tomorrow immediately after the house convened Its adoption—and only a majority vote would be necessary for that—would preclude the possibility of the minority offering a motion to recommit It was their expressed desire to offer a motion to send the bill back to the ways and means committee with instructions to reinsert the cash bonus feature for which the new bank loan provision was substituted

The rules committee met today to consider the special resolution to make Thursday suspension day and to determine the details of the parliamentary procedure for tomorrow

ULSTER-FREE STATE BORDER SITUATION IS FROM BAD TO WORSE

TRIFLING INCIDENT MAY DRAW RIVAL FORCES INTO CONFLICT

MAJORITY OF IRELAND DEPLORES THE DANGER

Organized Forces on North Side Is the Chief Cause of Resentment

By Associated Press

LONDON, March 22—The situation on the border between Ulster and southern Ireland is going from bad to worse and is such that some trifling incident may draw the rival forces into a conflict which will shatter all prospects of peace in Ireland says the Dublin correspondent of the Times

The tragic irony of the situation he adds consists in the fact that the vast majority of Irishmen of all parties deplore the danger but seem unable to avert it Each side daily takes some measure of defense which it regards as legitimate but which produces prompt retaliation from the other side with the result that political passions are intensified and the pleadings of common sense fail to find hearing

The chief cause of resentment on the northern side of the border is the existence there of organized forces of the Irish republican army which the northern government insists must depart or be expelled before there can be any talk of peace

On the other hand the southern nationalists claim the right to protect the Catholic minorities in the northeast by every means in their power They believe the northern police cannot be trusted to act impartially The southern newspapers print daily reports of outrages in which these police are allegedly concerned

It is notorious that certain sections of the Irish republican army do not necessarily take orders from Dublin and that raids of armed republicans into the northern area occur at times

According to Commandant Roderick O'Connor, director of engineering of the headquarters staff of the Irish republican army 80 per cent of the army s members believe the army has been "let down" and that the dail eireann has been false to the republican oath by agreeing to accept the inclusion of Ireland within the British empire

CHARGED WITH ACCEPTING BRIBE IN CONNECTION WITH DEPOSIT OF STATE MONEY IN OKMULGEE BANK

Former State Banking Commissioner Is Indicted Jointly With Governor and Is Also Indicted for Failure to Close Bank After It Was Found to Be Insolvent—Report Governor Is En Route to Okmulgee—Dennis Has Disappeared.

GOVERNOR IS CHARGED WITH ACCEPTING BRIBE

J B A ROBERTSON

OKMULGEE, OKLA, March 22.—A joint indictment charging Governor Robertson of Oklahoma and Fred Dennis, former state banking commissioner, with accepting a bribe to permit the Guaranty State bank to continue to do business after it had been found insolvent, was returned by the district court grand jury yesterday, it was learned today by the Associated Press.

Sheriff Sowers of Okmulgee county now has a warrant for Governor Robertson's arrest, but said he expected to hear from the executive some time during the day and that he did not intend to serve the warrant today

Later word was received from a confidential source that Governor Robertson would be here on the first train Dennis disappeared from Oklahoma City soon after resigning from office So far as known local authorities have no clue as to his present whereabouts. He is charged in another indictment with failing to close the Guaranty State bank after it had been found insolvent

The joint indictment charged that the Guaranty State bank had been found to be insolvent by Dennis after an examination of its affairs of February 27, 1920, and that Governor Robertson and Dennis, having power under the law to determine the solvency or insolvency of the bank "did unlawfully, corruptly, knowingly, wilfully and feloniously" accept $25,000 as a bribe or reward from Rebold, under an agreement that $150,000 in state funds would be deposited in the insolvent bank and that the bank would be allowed to continue to do business while in a state of insolvency.

The money, the indictment charged, was paid in a cashier's check, which was later cashed by Governor Robertson and Dennis.

OKLAHOMA CITY March 22—J B A Robertson fourth governor of the state of Oklahoma who was accused of having accepted a bribe in an indictment returned by the district court grand jury at Okmulgee assumed office January 1 1919 having been elected on the democratic ticket the preceding fall He has been a resident of Oklahoma since 1893

Governor Robertson was born in Keokuk county Iowa in 1871 residing there until he removed to this state

The indictment charging Governor Robertson of connection with alleged illegal transactions in connection with the failure of the Bank of Commerce at Okmulgee is not the first time his name has been linked with the Okmulgee bank situation

In a sensational report returned by the investigation committee of the house of the eighth Oklahoma legislature on March 31 of last year, the governor was charged with having accepted a bribe for misuse of his official powers in connection with alleged illegal transactions involving the Guaranty State bank of Okmulgee His impeachment was recommended but in a spectacular scene in which a democratic member of the house was brought to the chamber in an ambulance to vote the body rejected the committee report 42 to 42 J T Jenkins of Oklahoma City who left his sick bed to vote against the report, later died The majority of the house were republicans and the governor and his friends at the time declared the attack on him was political The executive denied in detail the accusations

The report charging the governor with misuse of his official powers began with the delineation of an alleged transaction between the governor Fred Dennis then banking commissioner and John H Rebold of Okmulgee vice president and a large stockholder in the Guaranty State bank In this connection the report declared that the Guaranty State bank of Okmulgee was nearing insolvency in the fall of 1920 and that Dennis in an attempt to save the bank deposited in it $100 000 of state money The same day Rebold gave Dennis a check for $25 000 of which Dennis later gave the governor one third according to the report The money paid Dennis was said to have been

KU KLUX A PERIL, BISHOP DECLARES IN TALK AT CLUB

GOOD MEN WHO DON MASK "GOING TO PLAY THE DEVIL," HE SAYS

SEES "MORAL LET DOWN" IN RECENT HAPPENINGS

"Cities" Is Theme of Interesting Address at Luncheon of Wichita Club

"The most perilous development of the day is the so-called Ku Klux Klan. When mask d men undertake to punish crime and to regulate conduct we have taken the longest step toward lawlessness that has been taken in a generation," Bishop Mouzon of the Southern Methodist church told members of the Wichita club at their regular weekly luncheon Wednesday.

Bishop Mouzon who is preaching at a revival meeting at the Floral Heights Methodist church, made this declaration concerning the Ku Klux Klan during a talk upon the subject of cities.

He said he knew that som good men were donning the mask but that they were going to "play the devil" by being in it.

He was greatly alarmed, he said, about the growth of lawlessness in and about our cities.

"A good many people," he said, "are blaming this upon old Adam or to the devil That is not where the responsibility lies. I tell you that you must blame the new Adam and men and women who have the devil in them."

Some people, Bishop Mouzon said, believed that the growth of lawlessness resulted from the war. The fact was he declared, that there had been a tremendous moral let down.

He refered to the Apostle Paul, saying that the apostle was proud of his Roman citizenship; that he loved his city—believed in his town

He said that he had not been long in Wichita Falls before he found out that the people of Wichita Falls believed in their town and believed in the future of the town Another thing he had found out about Wichita Falls, he said was that its men believed in one another

"I believe in the future of any town" he said, "where men believe in it and in one another"

Declaring that one of the foundations for any city was loyal American citizenship, he took occasion to criticize the proposed bonus bill He declared it a "most iniquitous thing" "economically unsound," "socially vicious" and "patriotically un-American."

He said that those who were organized to obtain this bonus were in the same category as the G A R which had raided the federal treasury He said that the attitude of every patriotic American toward his country and his city ought to be not so much what he could get out of it but what he could put into it

Another foundation that was essential, he said, was a moral foundation—a moral citizenship and a love for law and order. He said that good schools and churches were attracting families to Wichita Falls, and urged the proper support and co-operation with the school authorities. It was the church, he declared, that puts the moral foundation under things

He referred jocularly to a remark by Mayor Cline concerning the "normalcy" that had followed a change in the national administration. The past year, he said, had been a bad one for business but it had been the best year the Southern Methodist church had ever had—the church had gained the largest additions in membership and had raised the largest sums of money in its history It was true, he said, that when adversity came that men turned to God, to the church and to the preacher.

Bishop Mouzon was introduced by Mayor Cline who said that Wichita Falls felt honored in having him come to Wichita Falls to preach Preceding Bishop Mouzon the club enjoyed several numbers by Hardeman and Wille who are in Wichita Falls under the auspices of the Musicians' club.

Dr. Prince Takes Up the Trail of a 'Personal Spook'

NEW YORK, March 22.—Dr Walter Franklin Prince, layer of the "ghost of Antigonish," said upon his return to New York yesterday that he had taken up the trail of a "personal spook" which had made its appearance in the life of himself and his wife.

He related how his wife, looking into a crystal, shortly before he started for Antigonish, described the scenes he would meet at the end of his journey; the house with the peaked roof and small steps; the barn behind the house, the pile of boulders, all of which he found as she had seen them.

He also told of another occasion when his wife said she saw an apparition beside him. Silent and half amused at her description of its movements Dr. Prince said he suddenly felt the famous "wind touch" on the first finger of his left hand and as a shiver went through him his wife said "it has just stretched out a finger and touched you."

Rappings have been frequently heard in the house, Dr. Prince said, but only when his wife was there.

"The spirit, if such it be," he added, "was a considerate one. It never bothered me on nights before I was scheduled to make a speech. Other persons, physically endowed, have heard these rappings in my office where I have sometimes heard them myself. My wife has extraordinary phychic powers and is continually seeing things in the crystal. I have been making a thorough study of her case and will shortly present my findings to the Society for Psychical Research."

Delorme stood committed for "voluntary statement" on March 27 by Judge Cushon today and is expected to be then committed for trial and to appear before the court of kings bench next June on the charge of murdering his half-brother, Raoul, January 6. Today the crown had completed the development in its case.

New features of the evidence were Dr. Dermone's evidence on the writing on a parcel sent to the private address of Detective Lorraine, one of the officers handling the police investigation, and which contained a match marked "A. D," and a piece of chain which fitted into a broken guard found on the body. It was his contention that this was handwriting of Father Delorme Dr. Dermone described a similarity between the stitches in the piece of quilt used to wrap up the dead man's bullet pierced head and the quilt found in the Delorme house.

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 22.—An area of more than five square miles of the lowlands southeast of Oklahoma City was under water last night, as the result of the slowly rising waters of the North Canadian river. A five-inch rise since noon was reported by the police, bringing the stage over the 12-foot mark.

Scores of persons worked during the day improving sand bag levies in an attempt to stem the waters which have broken through in many places and have flooded Exchange avenue, South Robinson and Reno streets for half a mile.

Numerous shanties housing many of the city's seasonal transient's dot the flooded area.

The Western league baseball park is inundated and the flood is entering Willow park, located farther down the river.

Actor Refuses to Be Filmed In His Lincoln Costume

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., March 22.—Frank McGlynn, actor, who plays the part of Abraham in John Drinkwater's play of the same name, has refused to be filmed on the streets of Springfield and in the old Lincoln homestead dressed as the martyred president.

McGlynn notified the chamber of commerce that his respect for the great man, whom he impersonates on the stage, was too great to carry the impersonation into the streets and the courthouse of Lincoln's old home.

Several motion picture companies had planned to film McGlynn on the streets in his stage costume and make-up, but upon learning of the plans, the actor sent word to the cameramen and the chamber of commerce that he would refuse. He stood firm in his refusal after arriving in the city from Peoria several hours after his message came.

OUTLOOK FOR WOMEN IN MEXICO IS ENCOURAGING DECLARES MISS GORDON

CHICAGO, March 22.—The outlook for women in Mexico is very encouraging, Miss Anna A. Gordon, world and national president of the W. C. T. U., said today on her return from a tour of Mexico in the interests of W. C. T. U. work.

U. S. WARNED AGAINST CHOLERA AND TYPHUS

By Associated Press

BERLIN, March 22—The United States as well as central Europe must be on guard against the introduction of cholera and typhus through immigration of Russian refugees, says a warning issued today by Dr. A. Schlesinger of the German Red Cross. Hordes of these refugees are pouring into Germany over the Polish, Letvain and Esthonian borders and many are seeking passports to America, where they have relatives and friends who are financing them for the journey.

Already nearly 50,000 cases exist in Germany, traced to refugees, and German immigrants from the Volga region have been infected. Seventy-five per cent of the recent arrivals in the concentration camps were diseased, according to Red Cross statistics.

REQUEST FOR THE TIME RESULTS IN AN ARREST ON CHARGE OF MURDER

PASADENA, CAL March 22.—Sovano Telles stopped a stranger on the street and asked him the time.

Telles examined the stranger more thoroughly. The clothes he wore, according to Telles, had been worn by his son when he left home March 4. The stranger was arrested. He gave the name of Eseqero Moreno and said the watch and clothes had been given him by another man.

Moreno is held in connection with the murder

Sunday Sales of Milk Chocolates as Food Not Violation

AUSTIN, March 22.—When the drink known as a "milk cholocate" is sold as a food and not as a beverage, it is not a violation of the law to sell it on Sunday, the court of criminal appeals held today in reversing the case of Ellis Saleh, fined $20 in Smith county for violation of the Sunday law

The court reversed the case because of insufficient evidence to show that Saleh sold the drink as a beverage Saleh contended that he sold it as food for breakfast.

The court held that to sell the drink in a restaurant on Sunday would be lawful as it would then "certainly" be a food but left open the question whether to sell it over a fountain as a beverage is unlawful, at the same time giving the district attorney another chance to prove that Saleh sold it as a beverage by remanding the case for a new trial.

Judicial Verdict Is That N. Y. Modesty Is Yet Unscathed

NEW YORK March 22.—Soothed with the judicial verdict that the dance art of the south seas, grass skirts and all, can't be worse if as bad as our native shimmie, four fair dancers arrested when they "shocked" Manhattan police detectives today were free to practice their imported movements as they will

Gilda Gray, Betty Wonders Dorothy Conroy and Helen Kuski so stirred watching detectives who visited the uptown cafe in which they were engaged that they were arrested as stagers of immodest exhibition. Their costumes, Detective Andrew McLoughlin told Magistrate Douras, were modeled after Gunga Din's justly famous uniform.

At the trial one of the defendants donned her dancing garb—over her street dress—for the edification of the court, whereupon it was decided that Manhattan's modesty remained unscathed.

for an oil lease sold by Dennis and the governor.

The report then asserted that the committee was of the opinion that the lease sold by Dennis to Rebold was at that time, as both Dennis and Rebold knew, not worth one dollar an acre and that the sale of this lease, if such sale was made, was a pretext to cover up a corrupt transaction in which Rebold paid $25,000, and in which the governor participated, to have his bank passed without criticism and to receive this additional $150,000 of state money

The report then recounted the fact that the bank's condition became so serious that it was consolidated with the Bank of Commerce, now defunct.

OKMULGEE, OKLA., March 22.—John F. Cook, prominent local oil man, and John H. Rebold, well known oil and lumber operator were arrested today on indictments returned by the district court grand jury after an investigation into bank failures in this county.

Cook was president of the Guaranty State bank, which was merged with the Bank of Commerce here January 3, 1921, and Rebold was a vice-president.

Eight separate warrants were served on Rebold charged with accepting deposits in an insolvent bank in four cases, bribing an officer, accepting bribes, perjury and unlawfully borrowing money from a bank while an active officer of the institution. He immediately perfected bonds totaling $15,000 for his relase pending trial.

Cook was arrested under five warrants charging acceptance of deposits in an insolvent bank in four cases and bribing an officer. He was released under bonds amounting to $6,000.

John W. Hammond, president of a local wholesale grocery concern, and formerly director in the Guaranty State bank, later was arrested on a charge of unlawfully borrowing money while an active and managing officer in a bank. He was allowed bond of $1,000.

The brigery charges against Rebold and Cook, made in a joint indictment, allege that on September 27, 1920, the two men acting together "did wilfully, unlawfully feloniously and corruptly" give $25,000 in a cashier's check to J. B. A. Robertson, governor of Oklahoma, and Fred G. Dennis, former state banking commissioner.

TARIFF BILL PLANS PROTECTION FOR THE PRODUCTS OF FARM

FIRST TIME IN TARIFF HISTORY SUCH ATTEMPT IS MADE.

AVERAGE OF RATES TO BE HIGHER THAN BEFORE

Senate More Responsive to Demands of Farmer Than is the House.

By CHAS. S. HAYDEN
Washington Correspondent Wichita Daily Times.

WASHINGTON, March 22 — Although it probably will be the first of April before the senate finance committee will be ready to report out the permanent tariff bill, enough facts have been disclosed to make something of a comparison between this and other tariff measures which have preceded it. It is certain that the general average of the rates will be high, but the most outstanding feature is the fact that the first time in tariff history there is an effort to afford real protection to the products of the farm and ranch in a permanent tariff bill.

The so-called emergency tariff, passed last year, was designed to give this protection, but this admittedly was temporary in character and while the rates to be prescribed in the permanent tariff, on those products of the farm, are somewhat less than in the temporary measure, there is not such a very wide difference. Another significant feature of this bill that the senate has been more responsive to the demands of the farmers for protection than was the house. Senators claim this is due to the fact that the agricultural bloc has a greater relative strength in the senate than in the house.

Take the item of wool The Fordney bill, as it came from the house, placed a duty of 25 cents a pound, secured contents, as the basis for the wool schedules The senate has increased this to 33 cents a pound Under the Payne-Aldrich tariff, wool, listed as the celebrated schedule K, had a basic rate of 11 cents a pound in the grease It is true that wool shrinks heavily in washing, much of it not more than 50 per cent, so that the rate in the new bill will be much higher than in the Payne-Aldrich law.

Hides, on which the senate bill will provide a duty of 15 per cent ad valorem, were not given any measure of protection in the Fordney bill. Of course they were not in the Underwood bill, nor were they even in the Payne-Aldrich bill, and it is necessary to go back to the Dingley bill to find a tariff on hides.

With lumber the rates are the same as those carried in the Fordney bill, with the exception that the duty of 50 cents a thousand on shingles has been eliminated. That duty, however, was not altogether satisfactory to the lumber interests, some of them opposing it and declaring it unnecessary

The duty on wheat will be 25 cens a bushel, the same as the Fordney bill, and 10 cents a bushel less than the amount carried in the emergency bill. There will be a tariff on beef, on beans, potatoes, rice, lemons and many other products which, in times past, were left to face competition of the world market unaided and alone.

Many leaders among the democrats insist that it is impossible to afford protection for agricultural products and point to the fact that market prices on items carried in the emergency tariff shrunk after that bill was passed. In answer to this, Representative J. J Dickinson, republican and a leader in the farm bloc of the house, says:

"Had it not been for the e gency tariff the shrinkage in va would have been immeasur y greater and I am convinced e could not have been the earl. . . covery which has taken place had the only cash market and A trana was ready to pour in her wo and beef, Argentine her corn Canada her wheat. The emerge tariff literally saved the day for American farmer."

FISH HATCHERY AT DALLAS TO PRODUCE OVER TWO MILLION

AUSTIN, TEXAS, March 22.—The state fish hatchery at Dallas will produce approximately 2,700,000 baby fish this spring, according to W. W. Boyd, state game, fish and oyster commissioner. The hatchery at Dallas, the only one in the state under state supervision, consists of 27 ponds. Each pond provides space for twenty breeders, Mr. Boyd said, with each breeder expected to average about 5,000 baby fish. The only other hatchery in the state producing on a large scale is the government hatchery at San Marcos, Mr. Boyd said.

The breeders in the tanks at Dallas spawn during the months of March and April, and, with the exception of crappies, the offspring are ready for distribution the latter part of may. Crappies do not stand shipping during the hot weather, Mr. Boyd said, and are shipped in the fall.

The various kinds of fish placed in the ponds to spawn are large mouth bass, catfish, rock bass, crappie and bream, a variety of sunfish which grow to a weight of one to two pounds Small mouth bass breeding is not successful in ponds, Mr. Boyd said, as the fish demands and must have running water for spawning.

The "babies" are distributed to virtually all the acceptable waters in the northern part of the state. The state department has an agreement with the federal authorities in charge of the hatchery at San Marcos whereby the state distributes fish in the northern part of the state and the fish from the federal hatchery are used to supply the waters in the southern part

Parties having private lakes may obtain the young fish free of charge, Mr Boyd said. About all they have to do is ask for them. Last year a large number of fish were placed in Lake Austin, a few miles from here

The dividing line agreed upon for the supply of fish by the state and federal hatcheries is as follows: El Paso to Sweetwat r on the Texas and Pacific railroad; Sweetwater to Temple on the Sante Fe; from Temple east to Calvert, Madisonville, Groverton, Corrigan, Rockland, Jasper and Newton. Requests received here for fish to be placed in waters south of the dividing line are sent to San Marcos and requests received there for fish in the northern Texas waters are sent here.

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR UP UGLY SKIN

Irritation and Breaking Out Often Healed Over Night, Says Skin Specialist

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream. —(Adv)

Stunt Program Features Meeting Business Women

A stunt program featured the meeting of the Business Women Thursday evening at the Y W C A with a brief business session during supper.

The "stunts" began with the birthday group for March who were seated at a square table in the middle of the dining room in excellent view of the surrounding tables and bidden to eat their suppers without the aid of forks A huge angle food birthday cake in the middle of the table furnished incentive for the contestants and was later cut In the cut Miss Era Dawson found the ring in her slice Miss Frances Brooks was awarded the remainder of the cake for most success in the contest

Other stunts included the 'Bluebeard's Wives' illusion an 'exercising to music' demonstration, and a schooldays stunt in costume

During the business session at which Mrs C F Carter, vice-president, presided in the absence of the president, several announcements were made including reminder of the open house for Thursday evening, the Dramatic club work, and others. The president suggested that since the blue name-triangles were bought for the purpose of identification, with the rapidly growing membership an ever-increasing problem in the matter of remembering names, they should be worn with more regularity

In the hostesses house party were Mesdames Wynne, Staley and W L. Hawkins and Misses Virginia Wynne, Hale and Suda Willis In the games, Mrs. Dudley Golding was most successful at bridge and Mrs E E. The dinner was served at 8 o'clock a pretty feature of the dessert course being the discovery by members of the wedding party of handsome favors in the bottom of their peach Melba glasses—rhinestone shoe buckles for the maids and engraved sterling belt buckles for the men At the conclusion of the dinner, after the coffee service a big bride's cake was brought in and set in front of the host who served the members of the party from his place

American Women Are Careless

Women are too apt to overestimate their strength and overtax it When feeling well they take unnecessary chances which in the long run cause much pain and trouble Wet feet, exposure to cold lifting heavy burdens and overwork will often develop troubles which cause no end of suffering Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the unfailing remedy in such cases Thousands of American women will testify to this fact who have regained health and strength by its use If you are suffering it will pay you to give it a fair trial (adv)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

IN BROWNIELAND

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"What are the other mountains?" asked Nancy anxiously.

Mr Pim Pim and Kip listened to the Twins story and how they had lost their way on the Glass Mountain.

"It's clear to be seen" said Pim Pim finally "that you'll need help, my young friends for you have passed over the two easiest mountains of the lot The five ahead grow harder in turn until you come to the last. And you'll be lucky indeed if you can get past it"

"What are the other mountains?" asked Nancy anxiously

Well said Mr Pim Pim, they are the Electric Mountain the Eiderdown Mountain the Cholocate Mountain, the Five-and Ten-cent-Store Mountain and the Mountain-That Isn't There"

"They all sound nice enough said Nick

Well just wait and see" said Kip wagging his head "It's too bad you didn't get some of the rubber off Rubber Mountain to tie onto the soles of your shoes"

"Why?"

"Because you can't step on the Electric Mountain without getting shocked And every time you get a shock you fall down and roll off The result is, you never get over it," answered Mr Pim Pim "Unless you have rubber or glass to walk on"

"Oh" said Nancy suddenly thinking of something If we only had our goloshes, Nick We left them in the Sorcerer's Cave"

"Goloshes" In the Sorcerer's Cave" cried Kip "Oh, then here's where I come in It won't take me long with a couple of dozen Brownie helpers to dig an underground tunnel right to the place and get them for you You see I used to be so mischievous and did so much harm that I'm spending the rest of my life doing good deeds

The shovel is in the Enchanted Cupboard said Mr Pim Pim "Here's the key"

Off started Kip to gather Brownies to help dig a tunnel and get the much needed goloshes

Girl members of the Junior Jewish council auxiliary presented a most acceptable entertainment Tuesday night at Kemp hotel when they entertained with a six-number vaudeville performance as an auxiliary benefit

Every number was well presented the entertainment opening with a song, 'Sunny Tennessee by Sophie Wolfsohn in costume, supported by a peppy chorus in apron dresses comprised of Misses Eva Blank Dora Blank, Ida Miriam Cohen, Minnie Goldberg, Martha Bergolowski Sophie Spitz Helen Swatt Fannie Fisch and Stephanie Fieldschmidt The girls responded to an enthusiastic encore

Anna Mae Cato gave the second number—a beautifully executed toe dance in orchid chiffon costume, with Miss Elvia Allman at the piano after which Miss Irene Blumberg accompanied at the piano by Mrs George Gordon, sang a character song, Hortense' She was recalled several times and responded twice

The one-act sketch, "The Hope Chest" by Jonas Rosenfeld of Dallas presented by Misses Eva Blank and Ida Miriam Cohen was one of the hits of the evening and very prettily enacted A black face sketch by Misses Fisie Cohen and Lillian Ginsberg with local hits was clever, and a pianologue by Miss Minnie Goldberg musical mind reader' introduced very fetchingly by Miss Fannie Fisch was another clever stunt The audience applauded the overall and apron song of Mrs George Gordon and Miss Helen Swatt to the echo and similarly approved the 'grand finale' a jazz band stunt with Miss Fannie Fisch leader and all the musical members and chorus participating Miss Lena Fisch acted as accompanist for both the opening and closing numbers

The vaudeville was a success financially, with a splendid attendance

FOREST FIRE DOES EXTENSIVE DAMAGE IN OZONA SECTION

SONORA, TEXAS, March 22.—Account was being made of the damage done yesterday by the largest and most destructive forest fires in this section in the hill country near Ozona, Crockett county. The wind blew a gale from the west, probably 40 miles an hour, making it difficult to fight the flames.

Automobiles carried volunteer fire fighters, water and provisions, to the fire until an army of over 200 men was engaged in the fight, every man doing his best for more than 10 hours before the fire was under control.

J. W. Fields of Sonora was probably the heaviest loser as he lost a quantity of feed and ranch supplies, hundreds of acres of range and about 200 head of cattle.

The concern of Williams, Mosler and Kinkaid also suffered heavily, losing hundreds of acres of range and numerous sheep and goats. It will take several days to ascertain the livestock loss, as sheep and goats drifted in deep canyons.

DALLAS, TEXAS, March 22.—G. H. Alford, secretary of the Texas farm bureau federation has gone to Amarillo to aid in the campaign waged in northwest Texas to sign up a wheat pool of 3,000,000 bushels. It was reported today. Reports at bureau headquarters were that nearly 2,000,000 bushels have been already pledged.

Organizations are being effected in all counties where any considerable quantity of wheat is grown.

GAS AND FUEL OILS WILL BE IN DEMAND IN EVENT OF STRIKE

Based on the daily average domestic con umption it added these stock are equivalent to 68 days' supply. The production of these oil in January amounted to 658,110,877 gallons.

Stocks of gasoline were increased in January by 119,000,000 gallons and on February 1 there was a reserve of 705,700,000 gallons, which is 130,000,000 gallons more than for the corresponding date a year ago. The record was established in May, 1921, with 800,000,000 gallons. These stocks are equivalent to a 50-day supply.

DEATH PENALTY ASKED FOR AN ALLEGED BANDIT ON TRIAL IN FORT WORTH

FORT WORTH, March 22.—The death penalty was asked for John Cornish Miller, alleged bandit, who went to trial in criminal district court this morning on a charge of robbery with firearms. It is alleged he held up P. A. Force, manager of the Pennsylvania pharmacy, last month. Subsequently officers overtook Miller and party, engaged in a pistol battle, wounding Miller and killing Arthur Bell. It was indicated in court today that young Miller will plead that he is a juvenile and ask for the transfer of the case to the juvenile court.

DR. LORENZ REPEATS THE OPERATION THAT BROUGHT HIM INTERNATIONAL FAME

DETROIT, March 22.—Dr. Adolf Lorenz, Austrian orthopedist, repeated here yesterday the Lolita Armour operation which gave him international fame 20 years ago. The operation, which was performed without an incision and required but ten minutes, was pronounced a success. The patient was a six year old girl.

The operation to rectify a congenital dislocation of the hip through manipulation of the bones, muscles and ligaments, was first performed in this country, it is said, when Dr. Lorenz was brought to America by J. Ogden Armour, the Chicago packer, in an attempt to cure his daughter.

TWENTY MOVIE STARS GO TO JERUSALEM TO STAGE KING DAVID FILM

JERUSALEM, March 10.—Twenty stars of the American film world arrived in Jerusalem recently to prepare for the filming of the Old Testament story of King David.

The big scene in the play is to be the fight between David and Goliath which will be staged a few miles north of this city. Biblical accuracy is not strictly to be adhered to, since the scenario provides a love scene after the battle.

LOS ANGELES, March 22.—Major General George H. Wood of Ohio was reelected president of the board of managers of the National Homes for Disabled Veterans at a meeting last night at Sawtelle, Cal. J. W. Wadsworth, New York; Colonel Roy Marston of Maine, and Captain W. S. Albright of Kansas were chosen first and second vice-presidents and secretary, respectively The board is in charge of 10 homes for veterans of American wars.

PETITION ASKS RELEASE OF WAR-TIME PRISONERS

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Release of all war-time prisoners, serving terms for expression of opinion and not for overt acts, was urged in a petition signed by 50 members of the house of representatives and presented yesterday to President Harding. The joint amnesty committee of the American Civil Liberties Union, in announcing the presentation of the petition, said that 29 children whose fathers are in jail would come here next month to make a personal appeal to the president.

EDISON DECLARES POLITICS PREVENTS LEASE WITH FORD

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., March 22.—Prediction that Henry Ford's proposal to lease the government projects at Muscle Shoals, Ala., would not be accepted because of "too much politics" was made by his friend, Thomas A. Edison, in a statement here last night while en route to his winter home at Fort Meyers, Fla., where Mr. Ford will join him for a visit.

"Wall street is fighting Ford and Ford is fighting back," Mr. Edison said. "The fertilizer interests and Wall street are as one and politics will keep Ford from acquiring the property."

TWO OFFICERS ARE KILLED BY A NEGRO

Negro is Later Shot by Two Other Officers and is Expected to Die

VICKSBURG, MISS, March 22.—J. L. Cavitt, town marshal of Sondheimer, East Carroll parish, Louisiana, and a deputy sheriff of that parish were shot and instantly killed yesterday by a negro, Pascal Plunkett, who was shot in the head later in the day by Deputy Sheriffs S B and G. B. Pettis of Madison parish as he was trying to escape, according to Louisiana officials.

The negro may die.

TWELVE PEOPLE ARE INJURED IN A CRASH OF CLEVELAND CARS

CLEVELAND, March 22.—Twelve persons were hurt, some of them seriously, when a heavily laden Detroit avenue trolley car crashed into the rear of a Cleveland and Southwestern interurban car in the downtown section of the city this morning. Both cars were crowded with men and women passengers bound for work when the crash occurred. Several of the injured were taken to hospitals suffering from cuts and bruises.

Cuticura Soap is the favorite for safety razor shaving.

TRAFFIC SIGNS MAY BE REPLACED WITH SMALLER MARKERS

The "silent traffic cops" installed on downtown corners will probably be replaced with markers less conducive to accidents, it was indicated at an adjourned session of the city council Wednesday morning, when the report of the committee of citizens which investigated last Friday night's accident was received.

The committee recommended that small iron or concrete blocks, low enough for traffic to clear, be substituted for the large markers The council is considering the installation of markers set almost flush with the ground, equipped for illumination at night, but has taken no action as yet. It is expected that one or more specimens of such a traffic marker will be put in experimentally before any general move is made.

The citizens committee, consisting of T B. Noble, M. J. Gardner and J. A. Richolt reported as follows.

"As requested by you we have examined into the circumstances in connection with the accident by which Fireman John Jenkins was injured and the chemical truck was demolished on last Thursday afternoon about 7:00 o'clock at the intersection of Ninth and Travis streets.

"The testimony which we have taken in our judgment shows that the fireman injured in this accident was in no wise to blame as he was performing his duty and trying to get to the scene of the fire as quickly as possible. We think that the driver of the freight truck was negligent and failed to perform his duty as he heard the fire whistle and failed to look for the fire equipment which we think he should have done

"We also believe that what is known as the dummy policeman or traffic guide post placed at intersection of said streets had something to do with causing this accident, at this particular place on account of the street car line This traffic guide post was not in the center of the street, but on the north side of the street car track. In our judgment these traffic guide posts are sources of danger, especially on streets where car lines are operated, because they necessarily confine the traffic on one side of the street to a restricted area. In this connection we wish to say that in our judgment it would be advisable to remove all these traffic guide posts from street intersections in the city substituting for them a small iron or concrete block placed in the center of the street low enough for street cars to pass over

"We further recommend that the ordinance, if one already exists, requiring all traffic to stop when the fire whistle blows, should be rigidly enforced, and if no such ordinance exists we recommend that one be passed We also think it proper to call the attention of the public, that when the fire whistle blows it is to notify them so that they may avoid collision with the fire equipment by stopping '

DENVER BUNK HOUSE IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Fire breaking out at 7 o'clock Tuesday night in a bunk house in the Fort Worth and Denver railroad yards just east of the union station completely destroyed the building and contents, entailing a total property loss of about $.00 The flames gained headway with such rapidity after being started that the house was doomed before firemen arrived on the scene

First public school for the blind was established in Paris 1784.

TUESDAY, MARCH 22, 1922.

WHERE ARE WE HEADED?

At Nashville, Tenn., Walter Gibbs was killed while trying to defend Joel Harris, a 65 year old man from masked men who were attempting to seize him. After killing Gibbs the masked men took Harris to the secluded spot and beat him severely.

At Dallas masked men entered the home of F. H. Etheridge, knocked down his daughter when she sought to prevent them from dragging off her father, took him to the outskirts of the city and beat him, unmercifully.

At Beaumont a party of men seized J. A. Pelt on the porch of his home after they had beaten him over the head with a revolver and had knocked down his wife. They took him into the country where they whipped, tarred and feathered him. Pelt is 63 years of age.

These incidents were reported in Tuesday's Times. Similar incidents are being reported every day. They have become so common as to lose some of their news value. There is scarcely a community in the state that has not had its whipping and tarring party. And one such party has been followed by others. At Dallas there has been a regular epidemic of them. Men everywhere are setting themselves up as judges over other men and convicting them of misconduct and are themselves, under cover of masks, inflicting punishment. Rights guaranteed to all citizens are being overriden. No man can know when he may become the victim of malice, spite, envy and all the other things that can be hidden under a mask.

It has been said that these masked parties have not given any punishment that was not deserved. This may be true. It may be true also that some good men have taken part in these whipping parties. But they are outrages nevertheless and violations of orderly justice. They preach that might makes right and that what can be gotten away with is right and proper. They are an incentive to criminal instincts wherever these instincts exist. Their logical development is a state of terrorism, anarchy and crime. Mobbers will not have to go far before they throw down orderly government and destroy rights which men have won through long centuries of struggle and sacrifice. When the mask, the whip and the tarpot become the emblems of justice civilization will be destroyed. Isn't it time now for us to stop and look in the direction in which we seem headed?

EXIT: THE "BLUES"

Have you noticed that in vaudeville and burlesque they aren't wailing those "blue" songs as much as a few months ago?

And when you and the wife go out for the evening, if some pest starts up the phonograph the "blues" records aren't as much in evidence? If brought out, apt to be dusty?

The "blues" are passing out because a psychological wave of optimism is pulsating through the country.

When the nation was down at the mouth and keeping itself plugging along only by a grim sense of humor, the national anthem had verses like these:

Ashes to ashes, dust to dust,
If whiskey don't get you, the raisinjack must.
I'm goin' to put my head on a railroad line,
Let a B. & O. train pacify my min',
An' I'm feelin' sad.

A market letter comments that lately no furore is created in the stock market by any news story indicating that there'll be a soldier bonus.

When the market was down low, mere mention of a bonus bill, with its financial problems, gave the market acute indigestion.

The difference is all in the mental state of the American people. As the market letter puts it, "Optimism is the great force underneath the market and it is the most powerful force known in business."

Business went to pot when every one lost courage, began looking solemn and speaking in funereal tones.

Whether pessimism produced hard times, or hard times generated pessimism, doesn't make much difference.

The important point is that optimism and prosperity travel together, and that the country is getting optimistic.

Fundamentally, we haven't been critically ill—at least, not compared with the hard times of 1873. It was largely a case of financial stomach trouble. Dr. Fate put us to bed, to stay until we learned that bread, beans and round steak are more digestible over a long period than chocolate cake, lobster and candy.

Just like a patient with a sound body—can't keep him in bed after he gets restless.

Hard times come when we get pessimistic and underestimate our strength. That's a continuous human failing. It takes eight men to hold down a physical weakling when he goes crazy, yet his muscles haven't changed, nor his reserve energy.

The strength has been there all along, only he didn't know it.

National optimism will bring out the strength we have but are ignorant of. Start tomorrow whistling.

THE "EMPTY DINNER-PAIL" ARGUMENT

While too much reliance cannot be placed upon the results of Maine elections held early in the year as an indication how the country will go in November, they generally do indicate a trend that is followed in November. The results in the third Maine congressional district Tuesday will therefore be encouraging to the democrats. The republican candidate was elected as expected but his plurality was reduced from 19,257 in 1920 to 6,294. The administration was the issue in the campaign, too, and some of the big men of the republican party spoke in the campaign. On the other hand the democratic candidate attacked the administration and made much out of unemployment and industrial depression. The "empty dinner-pail" received a lot of thumping by the democrats and this evidently carried weight, whether justly or not, as seen in the greatly reduced plurality of the republican candidate.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE OPEN MIND.

What a thrill there is in a new idea! How it runs through the brain, stirring up the normal cells there, and getting them to scurry in all directions, waking each up to welcome the newcomer.

Ideas come oftenest to the open mind. Because they are welcomed there.

If you let the world into your mind, you will get a better understanding of people each day. The narrow mind shuts out people and consideration of them.

Who does not admire the man who welcomes to his home every shade of opinion and every sort of decent thinking folks—the man with an open mind, always ready to learn and to grow.

The open mind is an unselfish mind. It sees so much of error and back-stepping in so many, that it has a clearer vision for that which is hopeful and uplifting.

The traveler, the actor, the lawyer, the newspaper reporter, are a few of those who come in close contact with all types of human beings. Therefore you find them with minds that are not sealed to facts and truth.

There is nothing more inspiring than to walk into people's minds—and find a welcome there!

I recently had the privilege of talking to a very great man whom I had admired for many years but whom I had never met before. I found him extremely simple and democratic in his manner—pleasant, courteous, and open minded. I could understand in my own mind the reason for his marvelous success—for he is one of the most noted publishers in the world.

The people who do the most good in this world are those who see all sides and who have tolerant spirits.

The open mind lets God in, as well as any who may want to find peace, comfort, or stimulation.

And the open mind lets in more sunshine, more fragrance, and more happiness, than any other kind of a mind.

There is one prayer I would like to have answered—my prayer for an open mind!

JUST FOLKS

HOW LITTLE WE KNOW.

How little we know, you and I,
How little we know of what's known.
Suppose all our people should die
And we should be left here alone,
And a new race should spring into birth,
Could we teach them the ways of this earth?

We could tell them of marvelous things,
Of ships that have flown in the air,
Of the wireless which every day brings
Its message of joy or despair,
We could tell we had motors to run,
But not how these marvels were done.

We could say men went down in the sea
And talked with the men on the land,
We could tell them of what used to be,
A light with the touch of a hand,
We could boast of the marvels of now,
But what if they questioned us "how?"

We know that the phonograph sings;
We know, for it's common today,
Whenever the telephone rings
That people will hear what we say;
But if we were left here alone,
Could we tell them the "how" of the phone?

Our civilization is not
Stored deep in the brains of the few,
By the toil of the many it's wrought,
It is all men have learned how to do,
And only the many could save
This age from oblivion's grave.

WHEAT FIRST IN EXPORTS

(Dallas News)

The market page filched some of the front page's stuff the other day when it heralded the department of agriculture's statement that the exports of wheat and wheat flour were of greater value last year than the exports of cotton. It had never happened before since the government began to keep tab on such things. Cotton has always been the country's chief foreign-money getter, and was even during the two years immediately following the war, when Europe had to give first claim on a depleted purse to its food requirements.

In point of volume, however, there was an increase in the exports both of wheat and cotton last year, compared with the exports for the year before, a circumstance that may be taken as evidence of Europe's recuperation, and in something like the same proportion. In 1921 the exports of wheat amounted to 279,949,000 bushels, as against 218,287,000 bushels in 1920, while, as for cotton, the exports were 6,678,000 bales in 1921, as against 6,359,000 bales in 1920. It is evident, therefore, that it is partly because of a greater increase in the price of wheat than in the price of cotton that, last year for the first time, it became the country's foreign-money getter.

Not less noteworthy are the facts concerning rice, as given in the department of agriculture's statement. One of them is that the United States has been a steady exporter of rice since 1918, and others is that the exports last year, amounting to 600,050,000 pounds, were 23 times the annual average exports for five years.

It is worthy of remark that we have become heavy exporters of most of the agricultural products on which the levy of import duties is being demanded as the due of the farmers. A dam built across a stream to protect the land above it from overflow would be as serviceable as tariff duties to "protect" the producers of those commodities from foreign competition, which is to say that its effect, if any, would be to damage those in whose behalf the duties were levied.

NUTSHELL.

All last year, friends of the farmers were shouting from the housetops that means must be found to check the rapid falling-off in exports of things grown on the farms.

Department of agriculture now announces that exports of the 32 leading agricultural products gained 27 per cent in quantity in 1921, but decreased 39 per cent in value.

Most of the other basic industries have been going through the same thing.

The so-called collapse of exports is largely a collapse of prices.

SUPERINTENDENT OF GATESVILLE SCHOOL OUTLINES HIS PLANS

GATESVILLE, TEXAS, March 22. J. W. Cantwell, who assumed charge of the state juvenile training school here this week has announced his plans for operating the school. Mr. Cantwell, of Fort Worth, was recently elected by the state board of control to succeed Superintendent C. E. King, who resigned as head of the institution. Mr. Cantwell formerly was president of the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college, and has been for eight years the superintendent of public schools in Fort Worth.

Mr. Cantwell said that he does not believe in corporal punishment and will allow its use only as a last resort to obtain discipline. The present system of military discipline will be continued, he said.

"The inmates of the school are not half as bad as they are pictured," Mr. Cantwell said. "I have been told that there are a lot of bad boys at the school. I do not believe they are all bad. Many of them are just boys that have been brought up under unfavorable conditions such as bad associations and bad environments that have led the boys into wayward lives."

Mr. Cantwell favors taking the school out of politics provided that reports he said he had received were true. He believes the management of the school cannot be conducted properly with the school run on a political basis. He also favors abolishment of the law allowing county judges to order the release of inmates they have sentenced to the school. Mr. Cantwell believes the superintendent of the school should be the judge of whether the boys are competent to be discharged.

"The practice of sending a boy to school for a few weeks should be discontinued," Mr. Cantwell said. "A boy who is sent to the school for only a few weeks receives no benefits from his stay.

"I have been criticised in some quarters for accepting the position," Mr. Cantwell declared, "but it is the greatest thing that any man can do to help build up fallen humanity. I intend to take charge with that idea in view."

Mr. Cantwell emphasized the fact that corporal punishment will be used only as a last resort. "My idea is to teach the boys that the administration is their friend."

Mr. Cantwell said the Gatesville school is the third largest of its kind in the United States with over a thousand inmates.

He praised the work of Mr. King at the school.

The training school was hurled into the limelight last year through charge of brutal treatment of inmates following the death of Dell Thames, an inmate. H. G. Twyman, then drill master at the school, has recently been sentenced to ten years imprisonment in the penitentiary on a charge of murder in connection with the boy's death.

The state board of control conducted an investigation and after examining witnesses and making a visit to the school, exonerated Mr. King. Mr. King then resigned, announcing that he thought it best for the school.

Men and women,—whether you will ever build yourself up to your normal, just-right weight depends on the number of blood-cells in your blood. That's all there is to it. It's a scientific fact. If your blood-cell factory isn't working right, you will be run-down, thin, your blood will be in disorder, and perhaps your face will be broken out with pimples, blackheads and eruptions. S. S. S. keeps your blood-cell factory working full time. It helps build new blood-cells. That's why S. S. It seems to us that if any person or corporation had made the statements that we have made publicly regarding the way you gentlemen have handled the affairs of this county, that you would be glad, and would lose no time in contradicting the same, if you could do so. We want to say here, that if the county has become so economical that it cannot spend any money to place you gentlemen in the clear (if such can be done) or if you are not willing to spend your own money to do so, then this company will pay at the regular advertising rates for any statement you wish to make in answer to our letters Nos. 1, 2 and 3, provided you do not use more space than we have. This company is not organized for the purpose of dispensing charity, but we are so anxious to have you answer our letters that we will be glad to incur this expense, if there is any answer you can make.

We are glad that the taxpayers and citizens of this country are becoming sufficiently aroused that they are demanding an explanation of the manner in which you are buying materials for your concrete roads and we are very anxious that they should have this explanation. In other words, the statements that have been made by us in our open letters Nos. 1 and 2 have not been refuted by you and are likely to cause the finger of scorn and suspicion to be pointed at you and it would grieve us very much if any of the officials of this county should commit any act that would justify any censure from his constituents.

We notice in the Record News of March 12, page 15, the following headlines: 'Isbell makes report of prices paid for sand." The article, however, itself does not say anything about the price paid for sand and merely gives the number of cars actually received for road work. We would like for the taxpayers to know that if these 1,004 cars had been purchased at the price you can now purchase first class specification sand for from us, it would have cost the taxpayers approximately $75,000 less than what it has cost them. We, however, do not intend, or want to convey the impressions that we could have furnished this quantity of sand at the time it was used. But we do not want the taxpayers to forget that you can now purchase and have been able to do so for some time the same, or better quality of sand than you have been using, at a saving of approximately $1,000 per month, based on the rate you claimed you were using sand.

We also want to call your attention to another article published in the Daily Times of March 13, with the following headlines: "County refuses to pay for sand in controversy." We want the taxpayers to know that this identical car of sand is the one that Mr. Isbell, representing the county, and Mr. Julian Montgomery, representing us, who with a third man selected by the above mentioned gentlemen, secured samples of sand from this car and sent same to Austin to be tested by the highway department, under whose specifications our roads are being built, and who reported that the sand was satisfactory for concrete work.

In other words it has been tested by three competent men. First, Mr. Julian Montgomery of this city, who is a consulting engineer of far more than average ability and has the distinction of having been the highest salaried city engineer of the state, and has probably had more experience in building concrete highways than our county engineer will ever have.

Second. It was tested by Dr. Thomas, testing engineer of the University of Texas, who reported that "This is excellent sand that should make first class concrete."

Third. The state highway department reports on the sample taken from this car by Mr. Isbell himself as follows: "This sample of material consists of well graded sand. This sand contains a small amount of clay which no doubt adds to its value for use an dshou'd be considered as very satisfactory." We are not mentioning this particular news item because we think the taxpayers are especially interested in our controversy on the one car of sand, but simply to show that the sand which your engineer rejects as unsatisfatcory is considered by unprejudiced and competent engineers as entirely satisfactory and tends to show that the county engineer of this county is prejudiced against us and is not inclined to give us a square deal and thereby save the county many thousands of dollars of expense in building the concrete roads yet to be built.

One of these newspaper articles also intimated that samples of the sand now being used in the construction of the roads and also a sample of our sand could be found in Judge Jones' office by anyone interested in same. We might also add that samples can also be seen and secured from the various cars received by the county to be unloaded at their unloading rack and that what we had reference to in our letter No. 2, wherein we stated that we were not willing for our product to be judged by samples secured by prejudiced parties, as it is entirely too easy for same to become unaccountably mixed with Wichita county dirt, but that we are willing to submit at any time to any test made by unprejudiced, competent engineers as to the quality and cleanliness of our product.

We sincerely hope, gentlemen, that some of you will see fit to answer our letters in the public press and give the taxpayers of this county an opportunity of judging whether or not we have misinformed them, or misrepresented to them in any way in regard to your treatment of us at the expense of the county.

In the meantime we stand ready, willing and anxious to supply this county with first class concreto sand at 10c per ton less than you are now paying. Now isn't it a fact that if you purchased all your sand from us at the price we quote that you would save the taxpayers of Wichita county approximately $1,000 per month?

(Pardon us if we repeat this occasionally, as this is what we want to impress on the minds of the taxpayers of Wichita county.)

"You're so scared of me, you can't hardly breathe," he said calmly. "I don t like li'l girls to be scared of me, so you can just get you another plate and cup and saucer and sit down there on the other side of the table and eat your supper with me."

To eat supper with her uncle's murderer! Here was a grotesque jape of fate. It was unthinkable. Absolutely. The man divined something of what was passing in her mind.

"All in the line of business, li'l girl," he said, with a backward jerk of his head toward the front room where he had killed her uncle. "I didn't have a thing against him—personally."

"There were dishes here on the table," she babled hysterically. "They found them here after—after—showing how he'd fed you first, and——"

"Sure he fed me," he interrupted. I was hungry, hungrier than I am now. Aha same, you gotta eat supper with me.

He twisted her wrist to emphasize his wish. She uttered a little moan. 'Don't' Oh, don't hurt me any more! I'll do what you want."

Beaten, body and soul, she went to the cupboard and got herself plate and cup and saucer, knife and fork and spoon.

She sat down opposite the man and tried to eat. It required every atom of will power to induce her throat muscles to permit her to swallow. Dan Slike watched her with savage satisfaction. He found the situation intensely amusing. To murder her uncle and later eat a meal with the niece. What a joke!

"I saw two mules and a horse in the corral when I came by," he resumed. "Looks like a good horse—better than the one I left up in the timber. I'll ride your horse and lead the other. Listen, I expect tomorrow sometime you'll have a few gents a-callin' on you. It'll likely take those Golden Bar citizens till about then to pick up my trail!"

CHAPTER XIII

"You see," said Dan Slike, as he topped his mount, "I ain't been hard on you. I only took what I needed Think of that and be happy"

He whirled the horse and rode away.

Hazel remained standing beside the corral gate. Suddenly she was conscious of a great weariness. With dragging steps she returned to the house. When she returned to the kitchen, there was a man standing in the middle of the room.

Nothing had the power to surprise her now. She would not have been amazed had the devil himself popped into the room. The man turned at her entry. He was Rafe Tuckleton.

"What do you want?" she asked lifelessly

"Who s been here?" he demanded, pointing an accusing finger at the table "Two plates, two cups, two saucers—who you been entertaining?"

Entertaining! Good Lord! Hazel sat down on the wood-box and laughed hysterically

He was around the table and confronting her in three strides. "Who's been here?" he kept at her

"Dan Slike," she said with a spasmodic giggle

"You re a liar," he told her promptly. 'Dan Slike didn't come this way. He—he went another way. You've had Bill Wingo here, that's whatsamatter"

She said nothing. Billy Wingo! He had loved her—once. What a queer, queer world it was. Everybody and everything at cross-purposes. Yet there was a reason for Rafe She looked up at Rafe. He was glaring down at her with a most villanous expression on his lean features.

"Say, whatsa use of lyin' to me? You're an odd number, by all accounts, but you ain't so odd you could sit here and eat and drink and carry on with your uncle's murderer. You can't tell me that."

She was regarding him with curious eyes. "I thought you always said Dan Slike didn't kill my uncle?"

"Well—uh—you see, everybody else seems to think he did. And—ah—maybe I was wrong

"You had Bill Wingo here, and we'll settle this Wingo business right now. This Tip O'Gorman murder has quered him for keeps. Sooner or later he'll hang for it. You'd look fine wouldn't you, the widow of a——"

"Don't say it," she cut him short. "Billy Wingo is no murderer. However, you can set your mind at rest. I'm not likely to marry Billy Wingo, or anybody else"

His eyes, savage and mean, held hers steadily. "I come over here, tonight to get you. I'm taking you back with me tonight to my ranch!"

"You re taking me to your ranch?" she gasped "Me?"

He nodded. "You, nobody else"

She laughed harshly without a note of hysteria. "You're two hundred years behind the times. Men don't carry off their women any more"

"Now for the first time she smelt his breath. It was rank with the raw odor of whisky. So that was what had given the wild idea of carrying her off by force. The man was drunk. Sober, he was bad enough. Drunk, he was capable of anything

She reached stoveward for the lid lifter Rafe seized her wrist and jerked her sidewise.

He was striving to kiss her and she, face crushed against his rough shirt, fought him like the primeval female every woman becomes in like circumstances Her right hand clawed upward at his face. Her left arm, doubled between their two bodies, she strove to work free so that she could grab his gun

Rafe received three distinct clawings that considerably altered the appearance of one side of his face, before he was able to confine those active fingers.

"Here'" he bawled in a fury. "I'll fix you'"

He tried to seize her by the throat and his thumb slipped by mistake into her mouth. She promptly clamped down hard on the thumb. With a yell, Rafe released his grip on her body and worked a thumb and ring finger into her cheeks in a frantic effort to force open her locked jaws.

He jumped back against the wall, dragging her with him, and began to shake her as a dog does a rat And then the old Terry clock did that for him it surely must have been originally made. For, as his shoulders struck the wall, his head knocked away the bracket that held the clock Involuntarily he ducked his head It was the worst thing he could have done, giving, as it did, the clock an extra foot to fall. It fell One corner struck him fairly on the temple and knocked him cold as a wedge.

When Hazel s reeling senses had reestablished their equilibrium, she found herself on the floor, lying across the legs of Rafe Tuckleton She raised herself on her two arms and looked at him He was breathing very lightly

She dragged herself on hands and knees to where he had thrown his six-shooter

Rafe groaned a little He rolled over and sat up his chin sagging forward on his chest He moved his head and looked at her vacantly The blood ran down his cheek and dripped slowly off his chin

The light of reason glared of a sudden in Rafe's eyes She could see that he was absorbing the situation from every angle

"I'll give you five minutes to pull yourself together and get out," she announced clearly. "If you're still here by the time I've counted three hundred I'll begin to shoot"

Rafe started to go by the time she reached 60 With the six-shooter pointing at the small of his back, her finger on the trigger step by step she drove him out of the house to where he had left his horse

Hazel watched him ride away and after a little become at one with the moonlit landscape She walked back to the house She felt that she was taking enormous strides In reality she was stepping short and staggering badly. She went into the kitchen. She closed the door, dropped the bar into place and fell into the nearest chair

"My God'" she said aloud 'I wonder what will happen next?"

CHAPTER XIV

"Now that we've got Dan out of jail," the district attorney pattered on, "we've got to glom onto Bill Wingo, and the sooner the quicker Me, I'm going out to Walton's tonight and question Hazel'

"We'll go," said Sam Larder decidedly "I ain't a bit attracted by your methods with the ladies, and I intend to see the girl gets a square deal'

"My Gawd," shrilled the district attorney, "it's Rafe Tuckleton!"

"Me too," chimed in Felix Craft.

The district attorney was none too well pleased and showed it.

The moon was high in the heavens when the three men came to the mouth of the draw leading to the Walton ranch A quarter-mile up this draw they came upon a man standing beside a horse. He proved to be the town marshal, Red Herring.

"It ain't necessary for you to be watching the Walton ranch," said the crotchety district attorney.

"I got as much right to the reward as the next one, I guess," flared the marshal. "If I wanna watch the ranch, I guess I got a right to do that, too. You don't want to cherish any idea that you own the earth and me, too, Artie Rale'"

Two hundred yards short of the bend in the draw that concealed the ranchhouse from view the district attorney's horse which was leading, snorted at something that lay across his path, and shied with great vigor, coming within a red hair of throwing the district attorney off on his ear.

The district attorney swore and jerked the animal back. Then he dismounted hurriedly and ran forward to view at close range the object that had startled the horse.

The three others pulled up and followed his example.

"My Gawd'" shrilled the district attorney. "It's Rafe Tuckleton'"

Proved, Yesterday! To Wichita Falls!

Big Audience at Wichita Theatre Hears Harvey Hindermyer and the Dann Trio in EDISON Tone-Test

In a test of direct comparison, made yesterday at Wichita Theater, before a large audience, the New Edison scored a complete and convincing triumph.

Harvey Hindermyer, the famous tenor, sang in direct comparison with the RE-CREATION of his voice by the New Edison. To every ear, there was no difference between his living voice and his RE-CREATED voice.

This is the most drastic phonograph test known. No other phonograph has ever sustained it. No other phonograph has even attempted it.

The New Edison's marvelous performance of yesterday vindicates everything that has been said or claimed for its perfect realism.

Mr. Hindermyer stood on the stage next to a shapely Chippendale cabinet. He began to sing. His golden notes soared over the auditorium, bringing all under its magic spell.

Halfway through his song, he suddenly stopped singing. The New Edison, at his side, took up his song—and continued it alone.

Singer and phonograph thus alternated, throughout the song.

The only way the audience could be sure which was singing, was by watching Mr. Hindermyer's lips—so exactly like the living voice was the RE-CREATED voice.

The Dann Trio made the same test of comparison with the RE-CREATIONS of their instrumental selections. Again the same result—there was no difference between the RE-CREATED performance and the living performance.

Proof was piled upon proof! Evidence was massed on evidence! The end of the concert found the audience absolutely and completely convinced, through its own personal experience, that there is no difference between an artist's living performance and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison—that listening to the New Edison is, in literal truth, the same as listening to the living artists.

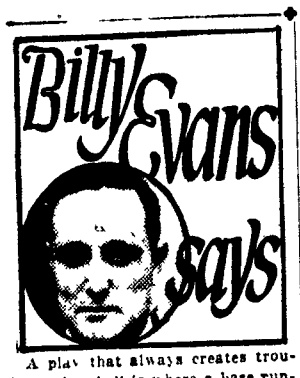
ALL THE NEWS OF ALL THE SPORTS ALL THE TIME

SPUDDERS ARE DOWN AFTER A MOST STRENUOUS DAY OF SPRING TRAINING GRIND



A play that always creates trouble in baseball is where a base runner is compelled to hold his base on a fly ball that is caught before he tries to advance

Hundreds of times during the summer arguments arise over this play As a matter of fact every time a runner advances a base on a fly ball that is caught his right to do so is questioned

If the runner happens to be on third at the time and is able to score on such a hit all the more attention is paid to the play

I know one major league manager who evidently has instructed his players to return the ball to the base a runner left every time the play comes up and appeal to the umpire for a ruling

A number of times I have had players on his team make an appeal to me when it was apparent that the runner had not left too soon I asked the manager why such foolishness? He simply replied 'It may look foolish but it doesn't require much effort to make the play and there is always a chance we may get a decision from you fellows'

It is a difficult matter for the runner to decide just when to start It is also a difficult matter for the umpire to determine whether or not the runner left too soon Likewise it is a difficult matter for the umpire to keep his eye on the runner and also the player making the catch

Recently I had a talk with a famous sprinter about beating the gun He told me that such a thing usually happened In our conversation the play in which a runner scores from third on a fly ball to the outfield was discussed

The sprinter pointed out that it was possible to get away quicker and get into your stride easier from a crouch position than standing His suggestion as to this play made an impression on me Some day some modern manager is going to try it out

It is his idea for the runner on third the moment a fly ball is hit to the outfield to assume a crouch position such as used by sprinters waiting for the crack of the gun The runner is to pay no attention to the ball

The coacher at third is to do this and act as starter The runner crouched on his feet and hands is to simply await the word go This word is to be given by the coacher the moment the ball strikes the hands of the fielder

I am positive such a scheme for starting would add at least a step to the base runner This is often the distance between out and safe I am waiting for some manager who believes in innovations to try it out

By PAUL W LARKIN

'We may be down, but we're not out'

Frank Kitchens, catcher extraordinary, made the foregoing statement Tuesday afternoon about 4 o'clock after he and the rest of Walter Salm's ball tossers had put in their most strenuous day of the spring training grind and he voiced the sentiments of every man on the club Yes, the boys were certainly down It was all some of them could do to drag their heavy 'dogs' into the club house after winding up the day with a turn or two around the park while some were licked" to such an extent that they were unable to take their daily jaunt around the enclosure.

Sore feet was the greatest complaint There was hardly a man of the twenty odd pastimers who did not have blistered feet or lame ankles All were in good condition from the knees up (though some could improve a bit more from the neck up) but from the knees down their condition was pitiful The baked infield and outfield which is as hard as pavement is said by the players to be the cause These ailments will eventually be overcome, but they are tough while they last

Salm sent his hopefuls through four hours of snappy exercises, two in the morning and two in the afternoon The morning session included the usual hitting and fielding practice while in the afternoon a full nine inning game was played after which the regulars had another fast fifteen minutes of fielding work

Knadler Improving.

Ramsey, Carmen, Knadler and Blunk bore the brunt of the hurling in the contest Ramsey and Carmen opposed each other for three innings and then Knadler worked for both clubs for a few innings and Blunk did likewise Knadler's showing was the best of the lot Salm's only spit ball artist continues to improve with the weather and may yet develop into a winning hurler He had his moist ball doing all kinds of antics and the boys are getting over the idea that they have to stand up and swing with both feet free when he opposes them His control the last few times he has been on the hill has been well nigh on to perfect and he has apparently overcome the fault which was expected to prove his undoing

At the close of the workout the boss stated that beginning next week there would be only one session a day That's the best news he has handed his crew since the grind started Monday they will report for duty at one o'clock and work through until four when time will be called

Summy O'Brien and Miller composed the outfield in the comedy contest (comedy for the fans but not for the players) while Beck Tanner and McDonald guarded the inner works with Fischoff on the receiving end Their opponents ran away with game getting off to a nine run lead in the first two chapters which could not be overcome Bowman Allen and Ammons played the outfield for the winners and the infield included Kitchens at first Comstock at second White at short and Wright at third

Salm is more than anxious to take the series from the Kansas City Blues Friday Saturday and Sunday and with anything like a decent break in the weather will use his first string hurlers He planned to use them in the Oklahoma City series but was afraid to take a chance owing to the frigid atmosphere

The Blues will give the Spudders their first real test of the season Neither the Cleveland rookies nor the Western leaguers were in a class with the Salmites but the Blues are reported to be in great shape and are chalking up victory after victory in their exhibition games They got away with an even break with Luthers who gave the Cincinnati Reds such a tough battle and they took two in a row from the Dallas Giants by decisive margins

Salm does not know yet just what day he will leave for Marlin in his quest for a southpaw but he will go either the latter part of the week and put the club in Tanner's care or will go immediately after the Kansas City series

Yankees Banking on Hurling to Win Pennant This Season

By NEA Service

NEW ORLEANS, LA March 22—If the Yankees' pennant chances depended only on the indicated strength of their pitching staff and the bulk of the reinforcements they could throw into any possible breach in their infield defense the Ruppert-Huston forces would be justified in considering themselves already 'in'

No other club in either major league has so many ranking hurlers and none is so well provided with capable extra infielders

Where other clubs would be happy in the possession of as many as three star pitchers they have no less than five

To guarantee their infield against collapse they have at least four competent candidates available for each of the four positions

They won a pennant last year with a pitching staff which consisted during the greater part of the season of only two dependable flingers

This year they have Sam Jones and Joe Bush former Red Sox stars to supplement the efforts of Carl Mays and Waite Hoyt, and every indication points to a more or less sensational comeback by Bob Shawkey, the erstwhile ace of their hurling establishment

And in addition to these five veteran rookies two or more of whom will be retained for relief or emergency duty

The most impressive of these on the work they have done to date are Frank O'Doul a southpaw from the San Francisco club of the Pacific Coast league George Murray a former college phenom who was farmed to the Rochester club of the International league last year and Gormer Wilson a Texas semi-pro who was credited with winning 45 out of 47 games last season

Murray is a robust right hander with no little style in the box while Wilson is a slim right hander of the Dickie Kerr-Bill Bayne type

In O'Doul Manager Huggins hopes he has acquired the much needed southpaw The New York pitching staff has suffered from the lack of such a pitcher

This will be O'Doul's second appearance in fast company He tarried with the Yankees for part of two seasons and was sent to the coast for further seasoning

Last year O'Doul won 25 games an lost nine in the Coast league Figuring on that performance as a basis he should be of much value to Huggins this year

In addition O'Doul can hit the ball His average was 338 last year

GREB TELLS HOW HE LICKED GIBBONS

Planned All Details of Bout Weeks Before Entering the Ring

By HARRY GREB

Conqueror of Tommy Gibbons

I defeated Tommy Gibbons by refusing to let him get set

Gibbons is a flat-footed puncher He must be set to have any power back of his blows

In addition, he telegraphs his intentions I knew every time he intended to start a right-hander

I had met Gibbons three times previous to our New York bout In two of the bouts I decisively outpointed him In the other bout any edge that Gibbons might have had was due to my lack of condition

In my three bouts with Gibbons I had carefully studied his style My experience had proved to me that Gibbons was a flat-footed puncher, extremely dangerous if allowed to get set

Since the New York meeting was the most important of my career likewise Gibbons', I had carefully planned the details of my battle in advance That I had the right dope was shown by the outcome of the bout.

I know that most of the ring experts were surprised at my carrying the fight to Gibbons

I had decided on that program weeks in advance of the bout That is the only way to beat Gibbons Don't let him get set, and beat him to the punch by stepping aside as he telegraphs his intentions with his right

My constantly changing style of attack had Gibbons bewildered as I figured it would Some will say that Gibbons had an off night

I don't believe that is fair to me I think that my style which Gibbons was unable to solve, was entirely responsible for my opponent's poor showing

I am a bug on baseball I intend to take a vacation in a few days I plan to join the Pittsburgh team at Hot Springs.

In baseball they consider the pitcher who has a change of pace a wise guy a tough fellow to beat

I have carried that baseball idea into the fight game I believe in mixing them up using a change of pace

A flat-footed boxer like Gibbons is helpless against that style That is why I beat him so decisively

A QUERY A DAY By BILLY EVANS

There is a runner on third base and three balls and two strikes on the batter The next ball delivered is a wild pitch that gets away from the catcher and rolls to the grand stand It is the fourth ball on the batsman The runner from third crosses the plate and the batsman goes to second while the catcher is chasing the ball to the grandstand The batsman failed to touch first base on his way to second The ball is thrown to that base by the catcher making the third out retiring the side Does the run score

The run scores The four balls on the batsman entitles him to first In failing to touch that base on his way to second he made himself liable to be put out However it is impossible to make this play a third out in which the batsman fails to reach first, because he is entitled to that base on four balls The act of the batsman in failing to touch first base has no bearing on the run

Another Practice Shoot At Local Gun Club's Traps

Paul Adams, shooting at 50 targets, finished the practice shoot at the local gun club's traps yesterday afternoon with 46 dead birds three better than the score chalked up by Roy Rhodes for his first fifty targets, though the latter smashed 63 out of a possible 75 shooting in a special match with Charlie Greenberg who chalked up a total of 59

These practice shoots are getting to be weekly events and the attendance yesterday would rival that of some of the regular weekly shoots that have been staged by the club in the past Twelve nimrods got wind of the fact that a few of the boys were going out to try their luck and some excellent scores were made despite the fact that several were using strange guns

Bert Adrian led the field in the first 25 breaking 22 while J L Nabb with 21, Claude Woods with 20 Leslie with 13 Carter with 10 and Inman with 7 finished in the order named Frank Morrow broke 33 out of his 50, Dempsey 32 and Boardman 23

WANT WRESTLING MADE MAJOR SPORT

Longhorns Would Follow Action of Texas A. & M. Officials

AUSTIN, TEXAS March 22—Efforts are now being made to have the Men's Athletic council of the University of Texas raise wrestling from a minor to a major sport standing The most recent agitation for this action is the result of the ruling passed recently by the Texas A and M athletic authorities which makes a major sport of wrestling at that institution

Roy McLaren wrestling coach of the university is very anxious that the Longhorn authorities follow the action of the Aggie officials

With wrestling a major sport at Oklahoma A. and M." said Coach McLaren the Oklahoma Aggies have been able to win three consecutive southwestern conference championships Texas cannot hope to compete successfully with the grapplers of Oklahoma A and M and with the Texas Longhorns until wrestling is made a major sport at this institution Next year unless the mat sport is raised to the major sport we will have about 25 men trying for places on the mat team Oklahoma A and M and Texas A and M the only two other southwestern schools which have mat teams, will have over a hundred men out for berths on the team'

BOXERS LINING UP FOR INTRA-MURAL CONTESTS

AUSTIN TEXAS March 22—Student boxers with ambitions to become class champions of the University of Texas in the various weights are now signing up for the Intra-Mural contests which start Monday March 27 Under the tutelage of Don Lacey of Austin, varsity boxing instructor a large number of potential pugilists have been developed into boxers of fair ability The departmental clashes are expected to produce a number of very fast bouts

Spring Training Gossip By Billy Evans

In every major league camp there is much discussion as to what style of play will be most advantageous the coming season

The campaign of 1921 was an era of swat Every ball player sought to emulate the deeds of Babe Ruth as best he could Every player was taking a healthy cut at the ball

The wild acclaim with which the baseball public received the home run deeds of Babe Ruth caused the other players to feel that if they were to continue in popular favor they must hit a few home runs

The players realized they were batting against the very best ball that was ever manufactured It was not a rabbit ball, but rather a ball that was lively because the material and workmanship was of the best If you hit it fairly it would carry

On the whole the pitching of 1922 was not quite up to the major league standard In addition the batters did not have to worry about the so called freak deliveries There was no mental hazard to overcome

These things all tended to make for free hitting and big scores Extra inning games last year were very much the exception due to the fact that extra inning games are usually the result of light hitting and airtight pitching

The era of swat which held sway during the campaign of 1921 naturally relegated the steal the squeeze the bunt and other one run plays to the rear The clubs were constantly playing for clusters of runs rather than one

I seriously doubt if the ball of 1922 will be as lively as the one we used the greater part of last year I am inclined to think that it will be considerably toned down

I am positive the pitching this year will be 25 per cent better than it was last year Pitchers who had fussed with freak deliveries and who were temporarily weakened when deprived of that style of pitching will have overcome such a handicap

What is more I look for pitchers to go back to the curve ball stronger than ever the coming season For the last five or six years the fast ball has been the pitcher's one best bet

The use of certain styles of delivery by pitchers goes in cycles I am sure the coming season will mark the passing of the fast ball and go an era of curve ball pitching With the curve will be the well known change of pace

With fast ball pitching the batters have been resorting to the slash-away or slugging style at the plate The curve ball is death to the free swinger

Since a majority of the hitters are taking a healthy cut at the ball it is up to the pitchers to fall back on the curve ball to stop them It will turn the trick if used If such proves to be the case we may look for a revival of baserunning and much use of the sacrifice One run under such conditions will mean something

PROMISING YANKEE

CAMP SKINNER.

A player who has been little heralded in the advance dope but who has an excellent chance to stick in the big show is Camp Skinner of the New York Americans

The two Pennsylvania State college stars Haines and Killinger have figured prominently in the dope from the Yankees training camp at New Orleans

This fellow Skinner, however appears to be gradually coming to the front as the one best bet among the rookies In all probability he will start in right field for the Yankees instead of Bob Meusel

Skinner bats left handed He was secured from the Dallas team of the Texas league He hit 327 in that organization last season.

SPUDDER PRESIDENT ON WAY TO PIRATE TRAINING CAMP TO MEET BARNEY DREYFUSS

President R O Harvey of the Wichita Falls baseball club is on his way to Hot Springs Ark, and thereby may hang a tale Just what sort of tale may hang is unknown at the present writing and whether it will contain good news is problematical

President Harvey would not state the exact nature of his mission but it can be taken for granted that he is going to confer with President Barney Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh Pirates about a pitcher or two The Spudders need nothing else but can easily use another good experienced hurler The local management would like nothing better than to have Jack Hollingsworth back and it is presumed that Harvey will make every effort to land him again

Holly" is not ripe enough for the big show yet but there are few better slabsters in class A circles With the hitting behind him that he is sure to receive here this year if he returns he should be practically unbeatable Harvey may have another man in view, but if such is the case he has not committed himself He is expected to return by the end of the week and while he was reticent about his trip before going he stated that he would let the fans know what it was all about when he returned

The athletes at the park did little else than hit Wednesday morning The supposedly weaker hitters of the aggregation are gradually getting their eyes on the pill and though the pitchers are now putting something on the ball in batting practice the players are knocking 'em where the fielders ain t

Comstock at First Base

A short infield workout was held after the batting practice, but few of the regulars indulged Speck Comstock was sent to the initial bag Eddie Wright worked at second Al White at short and Ammons at third Comstock is no stranger at first base as he worked there part of the season with Abilene last year Speck is anxious to convince his boss that he can do anything on a ball field except pitch and Walter is more than satisfied with his work A more willing and conscientious young ball player never tried out for a club and it is his ambition and desire to make good that is making such a hit with Walter

Ammons though usually an outfielder was sent in at the hot corner where he would have to move around a bit and try to take off several pounds of superfluous flesh This youngster is the biggest man on the squad and he uses all his weight in hitting Whenever he connects and he connects more often than he misses there is a resounding crash and it is easy to see how he hit well over 300 last season with Tampa

The majority of players were still suffering from sore dogs and Salm permitted a few of them who were in the worst shape to let up a trifle But sore dogs or no sore dogs another contest was carded for the afternoon workout

SALES TAX PLAN REAL BONUS BILL STUMBLING BLOCK

HARDING IS FIRM FOR THIS METHOD OF RAISING MONEY

By MARK SULLIVAN
National Political Correspondent of the New York Evening Post and Wichita Daily Times
(Copyright 1922, by the New York Evening Post)

WASHINGTON March 22—If sympathy is on the side of Harding in the controversy with some of the republican leaders of congress in the bonus controversy there is good reason for it The other leaders charge Harding with being vague in his position but they are enabled to make that charge by the the fact that Harding takes more factors into account than they do To the republican leaders in congress the bonus question is the simple one of passing it now so as to have the effect of fulfilling promises made by many of them and to create that impression in advance of the coming elections

SULLIVAN

Harding's position is that he is for the bonus, but only for such a bonus as will liquidate the obligation to the soldiers not piece meal and not by deferred obligations but in cash so as to get the matter out of the way permanently

When it comes to paying in cash Harding takes into account the state of the treasury and does not countenance any bonus bill unless it carries a method of raising the money by a new form of taxation, in addition to the forms already in use By this President Harding means a sales tax It is on this point that the real controversy arises

The same republican leaders in congress who favor the bonus are in most cases also favorable to a sales tax Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee was one of the original proponents of the sales tax and has been outspoken in favor of it for more than two years past But the point lies in the fact that these republican leaders in the house have not sufficient control over their party to pass the sales tax

It is this inability of the republican leaders in congress to make good in passing the only form of taxation which Harding regards as available for supplying the bonus money that is the real difficulty between the white house and congress

Differ on Army Bill.

Harding gives the impression of having been refreshed by the rest which everybody familiar with the burden of work on him knew he needed The bonus is only one of many difficult matters immediately ahead of him With regard to the army appropriations, the house shows a determination not merely to differ with Harding and his secretary of war on the size of the army they go further and are trying to say how the army shall be disposed The size of the army is clearly within the constitutional prerogative of congress but where it shall be stationed is a part of the president's prerogative as commander in chief Congress wants to prevent Harding from using any money for maintaining troops in Europe beyond the number of 500, or in Panama beyond 5,000 or in Hawaii beyond 5 000

Another issue immediately ahead of Harding and containing possibilities of much trouble, is the difference between Secretary Fall, of the interior department, and Secretary Wallace, of the department of agriculture over the proposed transfer of the forest service Secretary Wallace has it now and Secretary Fall wants it Also, Walter F Brown who on behalf of Harding has laid out a new rearrangement of government bureaus has recommended this change among others The whole matter of government reorganization has been on Harding's desk for several weeks and is held up by this and other controversies A great deal could be said and will be said about this forestry issue It is merely mentioned here as one in a formidable list of trying subjects immediately ahead of the president

Other subjects in this list are in a difference with congress on the size of the navy similar to the one on the size of the army the decision of whether to send an observer to the Genoa conference the arising on a new phase of our relations with Mexico the threatened coal strike the need of coming to some decision about the long delayed tariff which is now suspended in the air between the house and senate, the ship subsidy policy; the Muscle Shoals contract and a host of others Many of these questions are grouped within the broad field in which decision is needed most of all, namely who is to be responsible for the actions and policies of the republican party, whether Harding or the leaders in congress

For two things Harding has reason to have feeling of relief One is the fact that the treaties arising out of the Washington conference are sure to be ratified That will mark the completion of Harding's greatest work in the field of foreign affairs The other is General Dawes General Dawes will come in June to the end of a year in which he has acted as the right arm of the president any by the prodigal outpouring of sheer vitality and personality has put into effect with success what is probably the greatest single achievement of the Harding administration in domestic matters Namely the initiation of the budget system on a sound and permanent basis

On the rare occasions when the course of this work has brought General Dawes before the public he has attracted the attention striking out the achievement of this work bringing business efficiency to government housekeeping has had an importance and has entailed difficulties such as will not be realized by more than a small portion of the people.

LIONS WON'T TAKE THINGS SERIOUSLY, FUN MARKS LUNCH

The widely advertised oration on "The Tariff" scheduled for presentation by J. B. Hatchitt at the Wednesday Lions club meeting, failed to materialize when Mr. Hatchitt [illegible] the minds of his hearers to an alleged recent scandal in which one of the club members had become involved.

A recently filed divorce suit brought by the wife of a more or less well known character now held in the county jail was so twisted and perverted by the speaker as to be applied to the Lion member, and after considerable discussion the victim of the attack was turned over to the secretary with instructions that he be delivered into the hands of the Ku Klux Klan for punishment.

Humor and general hilarity prevailed throughout the meeting, which was devoid of any special features. The business session of the day was confined to committee reports and the naming of membership teams to function during the coming attendance contest.

Special entertainment was furnished by Miss Lucila Thompson, vocalist, who rendered three delightful selections, accompanied by Miss Lucille Brooks Huff. Miss Jaunita Kinsey, head of the high school speaking department, gave two readings that were well received.

OPERATOR TRADES ROYALTY INTEREST IN WELL TOO SOON

Trading an over-riding eighth royalty in a well for an automobile, just a few hours before the well came in for 400 barrels, was the unpleasant experience of an operator in Eastland county, according to local oil men familiar with the case.

The well was the King well, which came in near Cisco a few days ago at 2355 feet for between 400 and 500 barrels. When it was six feet from the stand, with no sign of oil, the operator accepted a proposition to trade his over-riding royalty for a Studebaker car. Before he had used up the first tankfull of gas in his machine, the well had come in, and his royalty interest had become worth many times the value of the car.

PYTHIANS ADOPT RESOLUTIONS OF SYMPATHY FOR PARRISH

A resolution of sympathy for Congressman Lucian W. Parrish was adopted Tuesday night at a meeting of the local Knights of Pythias lodge, as follows:

Whereas, with feelings of deepest sorrow, we have learned of the serious accident to our beloved brother and co-worker, the Honorable Lucian W. Parrish.

And whereas, in this, his hour of great affliction he is bravely meeting the test of true Pythian courage.

And whereas, we learn with peans of thankfulness that his valiant spirit of Pythianism is rising above the weakness of the flesh and that he is making a brave fight for the continuance of life of usefulness to our beloved country, to honor to himself, a blessing to his family and as an exemplar of true Pythian principles.

Therefore be it resolved, By the members of Pioneer lodge No. 49 here, now assembled in the Castle Hall of the Knights of Pythias at Wichita Falls, Texas, that we recognize his high and eminent worth not only to our great order and to his family but to our great nation and we deem it eminently fitting that we extend to him and to his family our sincere sympathy in his hour of pain and affliction and tender our happy felicitations upon his convalescence, and express the hope that his complete recovery may be speedily realized, and that his beloved voice may soon again be heard in our Castle Halls, and in the legislative halls of our great land.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the records of our order, a copy printed in the local papers and a copy furnished to our afflicted brother and family.

DRILLING IS RESUMED ON TEST IN WHEELER COUNTY

After a brief shutdown due to weather conditions and lack of fuel drilling has been resumed on the test of the Campbell Oil company on the Y. O. Ranch, located about eight miles southeast of McLean, Wheeler county, and is going down in good shape. The test is being put down by C. C. Campbell and associates of Wichita Falls and it is the intention of the owners to drill to 3500 feet unless oil is found at a shallower depth.

Drilling will begin on the test of J. I. Harvey, north of Alanreed, west of McLean. A standard rig is built and material on the ground. It is expected the machinery will be installed by the first of the week.

TIMES DAILY MARKETS

COTTON MARKET.

New York Cotton

NEW YORK, March 22.—Greater activity was displayed in the cotton market early today and with the exception of March contracts which opened four points lower, the list was generally 2 to 7 points net higher on support furnished by Liverpool and New Orleans interests and firm cables, the latter due to improved Manchester buying. Shortly after opening, however, favorable weather conditions again dominated the market and local selling brought about reactions of five to six points which weakened May to 17.93 or two to four points under the previous close.

The weekly weather report confirmed the bearish views of traders as to crop preparations and induced further selling at midday which carried the list off about 11 to 12 points under yesterday's close. Some of the selling was also based on further depression in the grain market. The number of March notices issued so far, exclusive of today's 23 notices, is 583. There were besides 3,612 bales received here today of which 2,612 bales were consigned.

Cotton closed steady.

New Orleans Cotton

NEW ORLEANS, March 22.—Better cables than due put the price of cotton four to eight points higher on the opening today but after May touched 16.72 fresh selling arose on the continued dry weather over the belt and expectations of at least a moderately favorable government weekly review of cotton conditions over the belt. At the end of the first half hour of trading prices were 3 to 4 points under the close of yesterday with May trading at 16.60.

The weekly review of conditions over the belt was regarded somewhat more favorable than expected, especially as regarded the mention of planting and replanting in Texas and of planting being started in Georgia. Offerings increased and the market fell off. Further softening occurred following the receipt here of private messages from New England stating that the textile strike had spread to Massachusetts mills. Toward noon May was off to 16.48 and the list showed net losses of 15 to 16 points.

At the lowest levels the trading months were at net declines of 16 to 17 points with May at 16.47. Traders on the short side took profits in the early afternoon and at 1:30 o'clock prices were about ten points up from the lowest.

Cotton closed steady at a net decline of 1 to 3 points.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE

CHICAGO, March 22.—Wheat averaged lower today. Bears contended that a considerable improvement in export demand would be necessary to bring about any decided rise in values. Favorable crop reports were also regarded as a factor against higher prices. The opening, which varied from ⅛c decline to ⅛c gain, with May 1.34⅛ to 1.34⅜ and July 1.17⅜ to 1.18, was followed by a slight general upturn and then by setbacks to well below yesterday's finish.

Subsequently, offerings were absorbed by strong commission houses and by interests that generally act on foreign account. The result was higher prices in the last half of the day. The close was unsettled, at 1⅜ to 1½c net advance with May 1.36⅜ to 1.36⅝ and July 1.19⅜ to 1.19⅝.

Scantiness of receipts counted as a bullish influence in corn and oats. After opening ⅛c off to ⅛c advance with May 60 to 60⅛c, corn scored slight general gains.

Persistent buying on the part of commission houses brought about a more pronounced advance in later dealings. The close was firm, ⅛c to 1⅛c net higher with May 61⅛ to 61⅛c.

Oats started at ⅛c off to ⅛c up, May 37⅜c, and later kept near to the initial range.

Provisions were easier with hogs.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, March 22.—Almost without exception prices of leading issues showed a downward trend at the opening of today's stock market. Interest focused in the coalers because of the strike order of the United Mine Workers. Anthracite and bituminous shares were lower by fractions to almost one point and the entire railway division eased. Oils, coppers and textiles also gave way moderately but equipments, motors and chemicals were firm. Pressure against high grade industrials made little headway. U. S. Steel soon recovered its early loss of a fraction. Initial foreign exchange rates were mixed, sterling strengthening while the German mark continue to weaken.

Specialties featured the confusing movement of prices at mid-day when call money rose to five percent. Marlin Rockwell showed a gain of 4¼ points and Fisher Body was five points lower. New Haven was strongest of the rails, but steels and equipments, motors and oils were mixed.

The closing was irregular. Sales approximated 900,000 shares.

5-YEAR SENTENCE FOR F. S. SAMPLES IS JURY'S VERDICT

F. S. Samples, former county attorney of Clay county, was found guilty of the charge of theft over $50, by a jury in the 89th district court Wednesday afternoon, and a five year term assessed.

Samples, who conducted his own defense, gave notice of motion for a new trial. He was charged with theft of an automobile.

When the case of W. O. Daugherty, charged with disposing of mortgaged property, was called for trial in the 89th district court Wednesday afternoon it was found that an insufficient number of jurors were on hand. This was due to the fact that three juries of 12 men each were deliberating.

The jury in the Ralph Pardy case which has been out since Tuesday noon reported at 2:00 o'clock Wednesday afternoon that they were unable to agree. Judge Martin asked how the jury stood numerically and he was informed that they stood 11 to 1. Judge Martin sent them back to consider further.

A short time afterward the foreman of the jury asked for a portion of the testimony of two witnesses.

In the 78th district court a jury of 12 men was deliberating on a verdict in the case of E. E. Pryor vs. the Fort Worth & Denver. The plaintiff asks for judgment in the sum of $2320 as the result of an accident at the Harrison crossing which it is alleged occurred on August 31, 1920. The plaintiff asks for damages to an automobile.

Judge Martin overruled a motion for continuance in the case of W. O. Daugherty. The defendant is charged with having sold a pair of horses upon which there was a mortgage.

TRIAL OF LON MORGAN CONTINUED TO JULY 10

AUSTIN, March 22.—The trial of Lon D. Morgan, former chief clerk in the state treasury, on a charge of embezzlement of approximately $15,000 state funds, was continued until July 10 when it came up in the criminal district court today. Both sides agreed to continuance on account of illness of a witness.

W. H. Parker, representing the West Cullum Paper company of Dallas, is in town for the day.

QUARTET WANTED IN DURANT, OKLA. HELD BY THE CITY POLICE

Spending the night in a dingy room of a third rate hotel or in an open automobile parked in the business streets is bad enough, but at that it's better than accepting municipal hospitality and finding shelter behind the bars.

That was the opinion Wednesday morning of a congenial party of four, two men and two women, who were locked up by city detectives Tuesday night on advices from officers at Durant, Okla. The two men were found asleep in an automobile and after a questioning at the police station told that they had come from Durant. A long distance call to that place furnished information that two girls were with the men and that all four should be held until Wednesday when an officer would be sent for them.

The girls were located in a rooming house after a short search and locked up to await the arrival of the Oklahoma authorities.

No charges were made against the quartette by police here and why they are wanted in Durant is not known.

SIBLEY-TAYLOR RESIDENTS MEET TUESDAY NIGHT AND DISCUSS CAR LINE

The Sibley-Taylor Improvement association held its regular meeting last night. The following report of the session was furnished by G. G. Henry, secretary-treasurer.

The committee to raise the bonus for the proposed street car line to Havener pool reported their efforts were exhausted in trying to raise the amount required by the street car company.

Chick Spivey made a very interesting talk and stated that a new plan was being worked out whereby this addition was sure of a car line. The new plan is to run the car line from Seventeenth and Holliday streets south on Yale or Princeton avenue to Twenty-third street and east to Holliday creek, where a swimimng pool and place of amusement would be constructed. This would enable the car line to operate without any loss.

The regular meeting nights of the association have been changed to Wednesday night of each week, 8 o'clock. Next meeting March 29.

BISHOP TO TELL 'HOW METHODISTS OUGHT TO LIVE'

Another great congregation heard Bishop Mouzon Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock; before taking his text he announced, that at 10 o'clock Thursday, he would deliver the most important message he had to deliver while in Wichita Falls. His subject will be, "How Methodist People Ought to Live." He urged all Methodists as well as the general public to hear him in the morning.

The theme Thursday night will be, "Individual Responsibility to Almighty God."

At the beginning of the evening service Thursday, children who are ready for church membership will be received by the bishop. Baptism will be administered but not to infants.

There will be a children's service at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon, conducted by Dr. Groseclose and Mr. Richardson.

At the evening hour Thursday another great congregation taxed the capacity of the building to hear the sermon on the "Immortality of the Soul." Dr. Groseclose announced that through the courtesy of T. B. Noble, all visiting ministers would be entertained at noon Thursday at the Wichita club at which time Bishop Mouzon will deliver an address. The bishop took as his text, Job. 14-14, "If a Man Die, Shall He Live Again?"

At the close of the service, on the appeal of the bishop, several persons came forward and professed faith. The pastor announced that to date 87 people had given their names for membership in the church and a score of others had intimated their intention to join the Floral Heights church before the meeting closed.

ATTENTION BEING GIVEN TO "SPRING CLEAN-UP"

Evidence that some attention is being given the "spring clean up" movement in this city is contained in a report issued by the health department on the amount of trash now being disposed of at the incinerator. Last Monday 43 wagon loads of garbage, trash and other refuse were handled at the burner, this being about 25 per cent higher than the usual Monday average.

Further evidence of interest being shown is supplied by the number of requests for laborers for cleaning work and wagons for trash hauling now being received by the health department.

Perhaps you are one of this two million

Some two million of the ten million American motorists will find it necessary to replace their batteries during 1922. You may be one of the number.

What will you do about it—buy a battery or the battery for your car? On your choice depends quite a few dollars in cash and a great many dollars, worth of comfort.

You can probably get a battery that costs less than the Exide in the first place, but you will find none so economical in the end. For Exide is the long-life battery, not in a paper "guarantee," but in actual service in your car—a fact that has been proved by millions of motorists since the day of the original starting and lighting battery, which was an Exide.

Give some thought to batteries before the time when you will have to have a new one, for the right battery means a lot to you. You will find courteous and intelligent men to talk to at the nearest Exide Service Station.

Exide BATTERIES SERVICE STATION

Whatever make of battery is in your car, you can be confident of skilful repair work, fair prices, and responsible advice at the nearest Exide Service Station.

4 MORE CHILDREN BITTEN BY DOGS, CAUTION URGED

Following close on the heels of information from Austin that the heads of two dogs sent from this city for examination Monday showed unmistakable signs of rabies infection came the report to city health officials late Tuesday afternoon that four more children had been bitten by supposed mad dogs Police failed to learn the names of any of these latest victims but stated that one of the reports came from the 1300 block on Bluff street and the other from Scotland addition north of the river

Two dogs were responsible for all four attacks according to reports each animal having bitten two children

Officers sent to the Bluff street neighborhood found the dog running loose and immediately killed it but the one which terrorized Scotland residents is still at large Police were making a search for it Wednesday morning

Eleven dogs were shot at the dog pound east of town Tuesday bringing this week's total over the two dozen mark already

In announcing receipt of the Austin message yesterday telling of the report from Austin Dr A H Douglas, head of the city health department issued the following statement

Reports from the pasteur institute at Austin on the heads of two dogs sent from here Monday were that both dogs had rabies

One of these dogs a greyhound broke out of a pen in the southwestern part of the city early Monday morning and is known to have bitten some dogs in that neighborhood at that time This dog was killed later in the forenoon at the American refinery north of the city after having bitten several dogs in that vicinity So far as can be learned all the dogs bitten by this greyhound on Monday have been destroyed but if anyone should know of any dogs now alive which were bitten by this dog please notify the health department

"We want to again emphasize the necessity for muzzling any dogs permitted to run loose This precaution is now required by city ordinance, as well as a board of health ruling, and all dogs found loose upon the streets without muzzles will be taken up

Vernon Fiddlers Soon To Be Seen On Movie Screen

VERNON, TEXAS, March 22—"Fiddlers from Vernon, Texas," will be flashed throughout the United States shortly on the moving picture screen as the results of photos made here Monday by a representative of the Fox Film company of A C (Eck) Robertson Lewis Franklin and Dr A P Howard local musicians The trio attired in cowboy garb of bright hues, were photographed with a moving picture machine on the doorstep of the Howard home while they played two well-known fiddling tunes

According to the film representative C J Kahn, the fame of the Vernon how artists has extended throughout this section of the country and his journey to this city by automobile from Fort Worth was made for the express purpose of "getting something different" It is estimated that $60 000 worth of fiddles were exhibited in the close-ups taken here

Antique and valuable instruments are possessed by the local trio and their names and histories were carefully noted for reference by the photographer Each fiddle was taken sperately, and from various angles

The three Vernon artists have won renown in this section, and last summer played before thousands at the Confederate reunion in Chattanooga Later they played for the Tennessee governor and state officials in the capitol at Nashville

KEEP CLOSE WATCH ON CRIMINAL BONDS, COMMITTEE URGES

Close tab will be kept on bonds in district court cases hereafter to make sure that sureties are responsible if recommendations adopted at Tuesday afternoon's meeting of the Citizens' association are followed

Bonds now on file in criminal cases are signed numerously by professional bondsmen, the committee was told and one surety whose name appears several times was declared to be "notoriously insolvent"

Judge P A Martin of the 89th district court attended the meeting and told committee members that the powers of the court in insisting on "good" bonds would be fully exercised

Rev H D Knickerbocker was a visitor at the meeting

LARGE HASKELL CROWD HEARS MUSICAL PROGRAM

HASKELL TEXAS March 22—One of the largest gatherings to assemble here on a like occasion attended the McNiel and Smith Hardware company's demonstration of the Edison phonograph at the Christian church in this city Monday evening Mr Herman Hindermeyer singer and the Dann trio instrumentalists were the performers and entertainers

A representative body from the nearby towns were present and every one was highly entertained and enjoyed the occasion and were loud in their applause of those splendid performers

Haskell county is alive musically and when an entertainment is promise that will render music to its hearers they always find seats scarce no matter how large the auditorium Many guests were forced to go away because all the seats were taken

PANHANDLE TESTS NOW MAKING SPEED LEASING IS ACTIVE

Work is progressing steadily on the tests in the Panhandle with pleasant weather for the past week improving transportation facilities in the district

Another deep test is to be drilled in Collingsworth county near Westminister where Byrnes and Lubin have blocked up a large tract of acreage on the J Walker ranch in the Von Winkler survey and are arranging to start drilling within the next week or two Leasing in this county has been active of late but due to the fact that nearly every town is blocking up acreage to drill a well only small tracts can be acquired

In Gray county it is reported that the Magnolia Petroleum company has purchased considerable acreage in fee and has leased some tracts in Wheeler With the coming of this company in these counties several independent deals have been consummated

Carson county has the major share of operations now with the Gulf company's No 1 on the Burnett which has completed their fishing job and is down around 2 975 feet Silk and Stone, who have straightened their hole and are down 2 000 and going good the Humble company has also finished a fishing job on the No 2 Burnett and are drilling at 2 200 feet The Texas company's test on the Burnett tract is down around 1 700 feet

SUN DOGS APPEAR IN SKY BUT RAIN DOES NOT ARRIVE

For a period of a half hour Tuesday night sun dogs were distinctly perceptible in the western skies The appearance of these signs of nature are regarded as prophetic of rain but reports from railroad agents Wednesday morning were not favorable in this direction

The only possible indication was the report from cities south that the sky was partly clouded The wind direction over the entire district Wednesday morning was south but there was little movement north and west of Wichita Falls clear skies were reported

The minimum temperature for the night locally was 54 degrees At Woodward, the agent reported a low temperature of 45 degrees Texline reported 38, Amarillo 40, Childress 55, Abilene 61 and Spur 57.

Nourishing Influences—

The garden that you are planting—or should be planting—now will not grow unless there is nourishment and moisture and attention given it.

The seeds of business, planted in the economic soil of the community, will not flourish unless nurtured by the helpful influences that the right kind of bank can give.

Wishing for sleep is a poor way to get it

A LITTLE wisdom in the daytime is a better assurance of rest than any amount of anxious wishing when nerves are a-jangle at night.

What you do at noon often has more influence on sleep than what you want and hope for, at midnight.

Coffee's drug element, caffeine, whips up the nerves, and when its use is continued there's usually a penalty which no amount of mental effort can avoid.

The part of wisdom, as so many thousands have found, is to turn away from nerve-stimulation and adopt rich, delicious Postum as the mealtime drink. Postum delights the taste, but brings no disturbance to nerves or digestion. Even the little children can share in the enjoyment of Postum at any meal.

It's better to anticipate warnings than to be driven by them.

It's better to encourage and preserve sound nerves and complete health than to listen to the clock ticks at night and say, "I wish!"

You can get Postum wherever good food or drink is sold and served. An order today may be the beginning, for you, of the great satisfaction and comfort which so many others have found in Postum.

Your grocer has both forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.
